Commission Report Reveals Alleged Prison Tortures

WICKERSHAM BODY GIVES OUT DETAILS

Startling Revelation Made to President Hoover After Thorough Probe

CHILDREN SUFFERING

Dungeon Cells, Bread, Water Not Unusual Punishment for Child, Claim

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—The Wickersham law enforcement commission in a report made public by President Hoover today, details a startling story of alleged prison tortures which it finds are being inflicted upon youthful offenders against society's laws.

The report is that of the second on child offenders and embodies a detailed study of the subject.

Dungeon cells, bread and water diet, flogging and nerve-wrecking punishments are not unusual for prisoners who laugh or have a concealed 2-cent stamp, the report contended. Fatal consequences were reported in one case.

"Punishment in the dark cells is given for trivial as well as serious offenses; not standing at count, speaking in the dining room, laughing in the cell block, making loud popping noises with the mouth, were listed on some of the discipline slips of the federal cases studied.

Find Prisoner Dead
"It was related to our field work by one of the reformatory staff that a prisoner was found dead in one of these cells."

Concerning the industrial reformatory at Chillicothe, O., she charged:
"A few minor offenses noted in the records as punished by from three to six days in the guard house, possession of a two-cent stamp; talking in mess line; concealing an apple in bunk; kicking a refuse can; stealing five eggs from the kitchen."

Shackling of boys with leg irons and misuse of the flogging system was charged against the national training school for boys at Washington last year, but these conditions were said to have been corrected.

Overcrowding was shown at nearly all places where federal juvenile delinquents are placed. At Chillicothe the living quarters were found to be "in poor repair, crowded, unsanitary and not fireproof."

The national training school for girls at Murkirk, Md., was described as "a dismal restrictive place, reflecting its spirit."

The only place given a clean bill was the Idaho industrial training school, at St. Anthony, Ida. There it was reported a boy arriving from another prison was treated for a leg sore resulting from iron shackles and the confinement of his foot in an Oregon boot.

The Washington state institution received the severest criticism. Twelve correction cells there contain no light or bedding, the report said. Inmates are required to sleep on a plank on the floor. The aim of the medical aid was said to be "to stave off epidemics rather than to treat those who are obviously seriously ill."

Judge Lindsey Says Reno Does Good

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(UP)—"The Reno divorce mill is not a solution of the matrimonial problem—it is a slot machine."

This view of the famous divorce metropolis was given today by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, noted companionate marriage advocate, after attending a "washday" session in the Washoe county courts.

"In Reno one merely puts papers in the 'machine' and 'pops a divorce,' Judge Lindsey said. "It is doing some good, however, in that it is forcing other states through competition to realize the need of revising divorce and marriage codes, as witness Idaho and Arkansas," Judge Lindsey, enroute to Los Angeles from Reno, denied reports that Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., had approached him to act as mediator between him and Mrs. Mary Weir Vanderbilt.

SOVIET ORDERS REORGANIZING OF COAL FIELD

First Move is Made Making Effective New "Stalin Economic Era"

MOSCOW, July 8.—(UP)—Immediate reorganization of the important Donetz basin coal fields along lines encouraging individual effort was ordered by the soviet authorities today.

A joint order was issued signed by Josef V. Stalin, Premier Vlaschko, and Serge Ordjonikidze, head of the polit-bureau, announcing the drastic program.

It was the first move in making effective the new "Stalin economic era," announced by the communist leader recently.

The order specifies that piece work shall be extended and wage scales increased, so that the better qualified miners and other workers will be paid according to their merit and not as they have been, everyone on the same basis regardless of whether their work was good or bad.

"Six months show extremely unsatisfactory fulfillment of coal production in the Don basin," the order said. "The situation may have bad consequences for the entire economy of the soviet union. If this backwardness is continued, it might strike a blow directly at the realization of our national economic plan."

This direct reference to the possible failure of the five year plan was regarded as of vital significance.

The order instructs that piece work shall be extended and wage scales increased.

Furthermore, specific crews are to be named to operate machinery in order that responsibility may be fixed.

Individual management of pits at the various mines was stipulated. Twenty-five of the most capable communist leaders will be dispatched to the Don basin to assist in directing the proposed reorganization.

The order was issued jointly by the communist party, the council of ministers and the supreme economic council.

RALPH MODJESKI ON HONEYMOON IN RENO

RENO, Nev., July 8.—(UP)—Ralph Modjeski, 70 year old engineer of international prominence, and his bride, the former Mary T. Giblyn of New York, were honeymooning "somewhere in Nevada" today after their marriage by the same judge who granted them Reno divorces last Monday.

The wedding was held at the home of True Vencill, Reno automobile dealer, and was followed by a party at the Willows resort. The two left later on a short trip before making their home in San Francisco, where Modjeski is consulting engineer on the new $21,000,000 Golden Gate bridge.

Rockefeller Expects To Reach 100

Celebrates Ninety-second Birthday Anniversary in Feudal Manor

(Copyright 1931 by United Press)

LAUREL SPRINGS, N.Y., July 8.—(UP)—John D. Rockefeller Sr., whose habit of saving pennies as a farm boy of eight down in Moravia, N.Y., led to creation of one of the world's largest fortunes, celebrated his 92nd birthday at his feudal manor on Povanitico hills today, and looked forward to his 100th.

Twenty years ago when he turned over to his son control of the Standard Oil corporation, a vast monopoly representing seven-eighths of the industry, he had achieved the success he desired in business. Now he is engaged, just as earnestly, in living to be 100.

"Why I'll live to be 100. I feel as well as I ever did. I'll even beat 100," he told a friend yesterday.

And in accordance with the rules of living which he has set for himself—rules from which he never deviates—he planned a simple celebration, different from any other day's routine only in the fact that members of the immediate family were present, and that there would be a birthday cake on the dinner table.

Shielded from the public in the privacy of his $600 acre estate by a small army of private policemen, he planned to breakfast, play numerica, golf his usual nine holes, nap after lunch, go for a drive before dinner, and pass out dimes.

He will not grant any interviews. His only public announcement was in the form of a statement which said:

"These occasions offer me a very welcome opportunity: first to express my gratitude to the many many friends who not only at this time but throughout the year have shown their kindly regard for me, and second, to wish them and ours and all the world a large measure of health and contentment which are the basis of real happiness."

FOREST AND BRUSH FIRES EXTINGUISHED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—After giving state fire fighters one of the worst 5-day periods on record, most of the forest and grass fires in northern and central California were under control today.

Timely arrival of 40 sailors and 90 marines from Mare Island aided in bringing a 60,000 acre fire under control in Napa and Solano counties. This fire, raging along a 15-mile front, threatened valuable orchard lands near Vacaville and the timbered watershed in Gordan valley, source of Vallejo's water supply.

W. B. Rider, deputy state forester, said that lower temperature aided by light showers throughout the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys had aided in bringing an end to the crucial situation.

For this reason, all vessels were cautioned to give the craft a wide berth, and special marks of identification were placed on the destroyer.

CREWLESS CRUISER RADIO CONTROLLED

SAN PEDRO, July 8.—(UP)—Mariners of coastwise vessels were keeping a weather eye open today for the destroyer Stoddert, cruising off this port without a crew.

The Stoddert, slated for decommissioning, at the last minute was turned into a radio-controlled vessel, and is using a good part of the Pacific ocean for speed trials, changing speed and course over a wide limit without warning.

For this reason, all vessels were cautioned to give the craft a wide berth, and special marks of identification were placed on the destroyer.

Two huge black balls on the craft's mast comply with international regulations for the prevention of collisions, while mushroom covers have been added to the stacks.

MAN APPARENTLY DEAD FOR NINE HOURS RESUSCITATED

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—(UP)—William Dugan has experienced something akin to death—a nine hours' dreamless sleep on boundless ether as he expresses it—and is alive to describe the sensations the mystery of which has intrigued mankind through the centuries.

The 27-year-old engineer, whose boat overturned near Laurel Springs, N. J., and who to all outward appearances was drowned, was resuscitated after nine hours.

During those nine hours Dugan's life "floated" through that sphere that hangs between life and the hereafter only to be brought back to reality by his mother's voice demanding him to "do something."

At his home today, a bit hoarse from the water he swallowed, he told of the sensations of death as he experienced them and of that urge of life which bid his small spark of vitality to respond to treatments of doctors.

"I had the feeling I was expected to make an effort to go somewhere and then from a very great distance I heard someone and I felt I must answer," he said. "After a great effort I opened my eyes and two hours later I could talk with my mother, who had been beside me for hours, praying that I would live."

"I truly believe that my mother saved my life by calling and pleading so insistently that I come back to her. It was that sense of worry about having to do something that roused me from the comfortable float through ether which is apparently death."

STIMSON WILL SOUND EUROPE ON DISARMING MISSING YOUTH

New Sense of World Unity Expected From Hoover War Debt Holiday

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—A new sense of world unity, a quickened desire to reduce armaments, and a softening of Europe's post war hatreds are some of the benefits that administration officials expect from President Hoover's war debt holiday.

Whether these expectations can be realized will depend, it appears, on the amount of international good will engendered by European conferences this summer notably that in London.

To sell Europe the idea of disarming and adjusting its economic burdens more satisfactorily, the administration has two "salesmen" abroad—Secretary of State Stimson and Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Mellon's task is almost completed. The 76 year old financier, persuaded France to accept Mr. Hoover's debt holiday program.

Details still are to be settled at an experts' meeting, in which the United States will take part if asked. But it is considered unlikely

North, South State Banks Go To Court

Los Angeles Interests Engage in War Over Richfield Oil

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(UP)—Los Angeles and San Francisco banks waged a battle today over the appointment of a trustee in bankruptcy for William A. Talbot, former chairman of the board of the Richfield Oil company.

Ranged on opposite sides are Frederick Thompson, present receiver in equity, supported by a group of Los Angeles banks and creditors, and the Bank of America, which supports Howard Ellis, former chief deputy for the state corporation commission.

Opponents of Thompson, who ordinarily would step into the position of trustee, claim that he has long been a business associate and close personal friend of Talbot and is not in a position to act impartially for the creditors.

The Los Angeles bank include the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, the U. S. National bank, and the Security First National.

Thompson claims the opposition developed because he refused to appoint Reuben Hunt and Keyes & Erickson attorneys for the Talbot receivership. These attorneys and others now represent the opposition, which claims that Thompson appointed the law firm of Gregory, Hunt and Melvin, who are attorneys for the Richfield Oil company, as attorneys for him in the firm's receivership.

The outcome of the battle will be determined by the greatest voting power as represented by the total creditors' claims, which aggregate two and one half millions. Accordingly, as the battle progressed Tuesday before Thomas J. Sheridan, United States referee in bankruptcy, arguments were made as to the validity of creditors' claims on both sides.

Sheridan was expected to announce a decision within the next few days upon the disputed creditors' claims. In event his decision is not satisfactory, the matter may go to the Federal courts.

RED CROSS NOT TO AID COAL MINERS

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, said today that his organization would not extend relief to Pennsylvania coal miners because of an established policy to give aid only in "cases of catastrophe."

This statement was made in response to a request from Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania who appealed to the Red Cross to extend help.

In a letter replying to Governor Pinchot, Payne said that the situation in the coal industry has been brought to the attention of the Red Cross from eight or ten states.

"It is an economic situation which has been before the country for more than 10 years," Payne said.

FINANCIAL CONFAB PLANNED IN LONDON

LONDON, July 8.—(UP)—The leading powers concerned in the Hoover moratorium have indicated their acceptance of the British government's invitation to a conference here.

It was expected a committee of international financial experts would convene next Monday and a committee of statesmen a week later. Between them, they will work out the technical details necessary for putting the Hoover accord, as accepted by Paris, into effect.

HOOPER TO BROADCAST

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—The White House announced today that President Hoover had accepted an invitation to broadcast greetings to the fifteenth International Christian Endeavor convention meeting at San Francisco July 12 to 16. Mr. Hoover's greetings will go on the air at 2:15 p. m. E.S.T., July 16.

MURFIN PROMOTED

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—The navy department today announced the appointment of Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin as judge advocate general of the navy, succeeding Rear Admiral David F. Sellers. Sellers will assume command of the first battleship division of the battle force. The change in positions will be effected August 1.

BEVERLY HILLS, July 8. [To the Editor of The Register:] Now I can't be so truthful about these Congressmen in Washington, for yesterday the head one of all of 'em drove out with Congressman Crail to my igloo to see me, Tilson, the Republican majority leader (who will perhaps be the next speaker.) We talked over old times when we used to meet and tell jokes in Longworth's room. He was called in to consult on Mr. Hoover's debt plan. It was well thought out and no politics involved, as he fed quite a few Democrats during the huddle. Tilson says "We are over the worst." Let's hope he is right, even a Congressman can be right occasionally.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

JUAREZ STRIKE OF LABOR MEN HUGE FAILURE

General Protest of Saloon Men Fails to Carry This Morning

JUAREZ, Mex., July 8.—(UP)—Twelve saloons that were darkened three hours earlier than usual last night by order of Gov. Andres Ortiz of Chihuahua prompted the calling of a vote by labor unions for a general protest strike. The proposed walk-out failed to carry.

The closing of the saloons at 9 p. m. instead of midnight is the latest attempt of Governor Ortiz to force Americans to do more of their spending for liquor and gambling in uptown Juarez instead of at 12 saloons near the Santa Fe street bridge, which he wants closed to pedestrians coming from the American side.

His interest in having money spent at certain places, especially at the Tivoli, gambling place, is that added tax revenue would come to the state. And the state of Chihuahua is reported to be in great need of more funds.

Jose Rodriguez Magana, new chief of immigration here, expects that orders will come through from Mexico City today regarding the sought closing of the Santa Fe street bridge to pedestrians coming from the American side. Governor Ortiz wants this bridge closed to such pedestrians so that they will be forced to use another bridge and thus go through the uptown section to spend their money.

Until he wins his fight to have Juarez bound pedestrians barred from the bridge, Governor Ortiz claims he will see that the saloons near the bridge continue to be closed at 9 p. m.

2646 NEW BUSINESS FIRMS INCORPORATE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 8.—(UP)—A total of 2646 new business corporations were organized in California during the six months ending June 30, it was disclosed in a compilation by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today.

This was an average of 15 new business concerns a day, with a total capitalization running into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Jordan viewed the showing as a stimulation of commercial and industrial activity in the state.

Jersey City, N. J., July 8.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose picture has been printed many times in nearly every newspaper in the country, had to identify himself before a bank officer recognized him.

A tall, tanned young man with a piece of adhesive plaster over one lip asked John White, branch bank manager, to cash a check. White asked him what he had to identify himself.

"My name is Lindbergh," the man said, producing cards and letters.

While writing out the check the flier explained he cut his lip while diving in a swimming pool Sunday.

LEADERSHIP IS DISCUSSED BY BLACKBURN

Speaking before more than 400 delegates and visitors to the Western States Farm Bureau conference in progress at the Ebell club house today, R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, discussed "The Qualifications, Responsibility and Service of Farm Bureau Leaders."

"As we discuss the requirements of Farm Bureau leaders, I believe it essential that we have in mind the purpose of the Farm Bureau and I believe that purpose to be the organizing of rural intelligence to the end that a solution may be found for the many problems confronting the farm and the farm home, and in the solution of these problems find a degree of happiness and contentment for that large group of American citizens who have chosen farming for their life occupation," the state president declared.

"Today we consider an important organization factor—Farm Bureau leadership. It is important because the efficient machine, once planned and constructed, can only continue to operate efficiently when properly guided by constructive leaders.

"Agriculture, for generations, has been an industry of the individual. Each individual occupied with the individual problems of his individual acreage. But times change and men must change with them.

There are periods when the former methods of industries must be entirely readjusted in viewpoint and practice, if such groups are to maintain their position in competition with other progressive industrial groups.

"So it has come to pass in agriculture. The day of the individual is over, and group action must take its place. The industrial problem of the farm is no longer confined with the farm fence—organization must be met with organization—the protection and representation of the individual must be established by the group."

Blackburn concluded his speech by pointing out that the essential qualities of leadership were sincerity of purpose, a desire to take active part in organization affairs, unselfishness, patience and good nature coupled with a natural ability for leadership.

Other Leaders Speak

The program this morning was under the direction of L. E. Neufeldt, president of the New Mexico Farm Bureau and was devoted to discussion of means of promoting a better understanding of the needs of leadership development. Other speakers who appeared on the program were A. J. Reed of Nevada, R. H. Schulte of Monterey, California, George Stallings, president of the Utah Farm Bureau and A. E. Bowman, director of extension, University of Wyoming, who made a speech summing up the salient points developed in the speeches.

The afternoon session began at 1:20 p. m., with G. M. Bridge, president of the Arizona Farm Bureau acting as chairman. Cecil Creel, director of extension of Nevada, spoke on "The Program that Develops Sound Farm Bureau Activities" and Miss Mary Mims, community organization worker of Louisiana, spoke on "Development of Community Life." The meeting was divided into conference groups to discuss various activities. Transportation conference was in charge of J. Carl Laney, Home and Community under the leadership of Mrs. Henry Ahart, acting director of Home Department of the California Farm Bureau, Ways and Means of Increasing and Maintaining Membership, led by H. H. Morrell, Securing Legislative Action, led by L. T. Oldroyd, Information and Publicity, led by Clifton Davis, editor of the California Farm Bureau Monthlies.

Leaving the Ebell clubhouse at 3 p. m., the delegates to the conference go for a tour embracing climaxes of citrus growing and packing operations through the Tustin and Irvine districts. They will visit typical orchards of oranges and avocados and stop at the Santiago Orange Growers' association packing house in Orange where they will view all phases of packing and shipping oranges. Another stop will be made at the San Joaquin Fruit ranch where members of the 4-H senior leader group will present a demonstration showing how oranges are propagated and grown. Refreshments will be served at the home of C. E. Utt, on Lemon Heights as a courtesy of the Tustin Farm Bureau.

Barbecue Tonight

The party will end the tour at Irvine park where a barbecue featuring Spanish dishes will be served and entertainment will be provided. Later in the evening the 600 people expected to attend will dance to the music of an orchestra in the park pavilion.

At the lunch served this noon in the dining room of the Ebell clubhouse, George Stinson, accompanied by Frances Adams, sang a group of numbers.

This afternoon a special women's conference was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley at the corner of North Flower street and Santa Ana boulevard. More than 100 women were present to hear Mrs. Charles Sewell and Mrs. Henry Ahart speak on home and community problems.

A great deal of interest was evinced in the talk given by Mrs. Charles Sewell, who is director of the Home and Community department of the American Farm Bureau federation at yesterday's session of the conference. The subject of her speech was "The Farm Home Requires the Security that is Attained Through Organization," in which she declared that the American farm home and its mistress no longer sits alone in solitude, and that a half century ago the farm home was a factory where practically all of the food and clothing of the family was produced by the wife and mother.

Tells of Home Program
"The home program was followed even before it had become popular as in present-day circles," she declared, "on every hand is the farm home confronted and influenced by conditions of organized effort from other classes and professions.

"The slogan, 'An adequate standard of living in the farm home with an income from the farm to pay the bill' translated into 'Better standards of home and community living' means much to the individual farm home.
"No longer is it possible for the farm home to exist and continue an American standard of living upon the efforts and initiative of its own members alone, but rather through co-operative effort and efficiency will these ideals be realized.

"Dr. Henry Taylor, the well-known economist, said, 'What America needs is efficiency in production, justice in distribution and success in living, these three, and the greatest of these is the success in living.'

"There is an old oriental proverb—'An educated man is an educated individual, but an educated woman is an educated household.' Hence the interest of women in the economic program is part of the great American Farm Bureau federation program.

"The White House conference on child health and protection revealed some extremely interesting facts. Less divorces, more ideal farm life, greater regard for ethics, honesty, more attention paid to service and patriotic responsibilities.

"On such ideals as these was the republic founded and these must be preserved if our nation is to long endure," she declared in conclusion.

Ask Damages As Result Of Crash

William H. Stevenson and Edna Stevenson today filed suit against Willis Endicott and Jane Doe, demanding $15,450 in damages as a result of an automobile collision on September 6, 1930, near the Log Cabin on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

According to the complaint Jane Doe was driving the Endicott car at the time of the crash. Injuries to Edna Stevenson were made the basis of the request for damages. Her injuries included a fractured vertebra in the neck.

Keith Garton Held On Driving Charge

Keith Garton, arrested several days ago, on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor was today held to answer to the superior court, from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, at the conclusion of his preliminary examination. He was arrested after the car he was said to have been driving on Lincoln avenue, near Dale avenue, "wobbled" from one side of the road to the other, according to evidence in the case.

FREIGHT WRECK HOLDS TRAFFIC ON SANTA FE

Railroad traffic on the third district of the Los Angeles division of the Santa Fe was tied up today when seven freight cars piled up in a wreck at four o'clock this morning at Esperanza in the Santa Ana canyon.

The wreck was caused by a broken wheel on one of the cars, which left the track, taking six other cars with it and tearing up the track and road bed for a considerable distance. Six of the cars were loaded with clay and these were broken and twisted, while a large merchandise car escaped with but little damage.

Several freight trains held at sidings on each side of the wreck were sent back to Los Angeles and San Bernardino, and it is expected the track will not be cleared until late tonight, when trains can pass over the switch which goes around the wrecked portion of the roadbed.

NO GOLF ON BEACHES

MILFORD, Conn.—The person who drives a golf ball on the beaches of Milford during the summer months will be arrested and fined. Such is the decision of a town meeting held here. Four persons were taken to the hospital for treatment last summer after being felled by driven golf balls.

Bail of $10,000 was demanded in her case, which was not made, and the preliminary examination was set for July 16 at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Schuer is alleged to have been the driver of a Packard machine which crowded off the road the car in which the girl was riding.

Court Notes

Seeking to foreclose a mortgage on property near Cypress, securing a promissory note for $2000, Landon Bonham has brought suit in superior court against Edward P. Lundstrom, Clara Lundstrom, David Kurz and Josephine P. Kurz.

Annie E. Lindsey has brought suit against J. W. Martin, Gertrude Martin, John W. Busch, Della M. Busch, the Orange County Title company and Edwin R. Cochems, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on property in Santa Ana securing a promissory note for $1500.

Frank McGuire, Huntington Beach, faces a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, following his arrest several days ago by sheriff's officers. He is free on bail of $500 and is scheduled to appear in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court on Friday at 10 a. m.

Soup to Pie in 10 min. 45 sec.

32 office workers were "timed" by the stopwatch in this downtown restaurant at noon. From the time the soup spoon was taken up to the moment the napkin was laid on the table, the average actual eating time was (believe it or not) just 10 minutes, 45 seconds!

START TODAY after lunch

... and try this commonsense habit for one week

Fast eating, like that reported here, is just an everyday performance in thousands of restaurants in thousands of American cities! You're probably no exception yourself.

No wonder so many of us are "stomach-conscious!" No wonder we're famous as a nation for "nervous indigestion," stomach distress, pills after meals . . .

Just naturally, doctors say, this habit of fast eating works against us.

Nervous relaxation and a sufficient flow of saliva are necessary to good digestion. Saliva is not only a digestant in itself, but it stimulates the flow of digestive juices in the stomach.

No—we don't claim that Wrigley's will cure chronic indigestion. But we do know that thousands of people have found that Wrigley's after meals is a definite aid to digestion.

Biochemists say they're right! They've demonstrated that Wrigley's helps to relax nervous tension. And as we all know, it promotes a beneficial flow of saliva. Thus it aids in offsetting the bad effects of fast eating.

We suggest seriously that Wrigley's after meals is a commonsense habit—and an enjoyable one. Start today and try it for one week. We know you'll see a difference! After lunch—take your change in Wrigley's.

All statements in this advertisement are based on scientific research conducted by a nationally known biochemist connected with the medical faculty of a great American university.

1 Wrigley's DOUBLE MINT—flavor that only the world's finest peppermint, double distilled, can give. (Do not confuse with Wrigley's Spearmint)

2 Wrigley's SPEARMINT—the full, refreshing flavor of fresh spearmint—the finest grown. (Do not confuse with Wrigley's Double Mint)

3 Wrigley's JUICY FRUIT—the delicious fruity flavor that you get alone in Wrigley's Juicy Fruit. Like all Wrigley flavors, it lasts and lasts!

BOARD CANCELS TAXES ON LAND FOR SCHOOLS

Taxes on two pieces of Santa Ana property recently acquired by the board of education for the school district were cancelled yesterday by the board of supervisors after the request had been presented through County Auditor W. T. Lamb.

One lot has been acquired for the Lowell school playground and is assessed at $965. The other, assessed at $775, has been acquired for the Fremont school grounds.

Among the property owners who appeared before the county supervisors acting as a board of equalization yesterday was G. W. Whitwell, of Orange, father of Railroad Commissioner Leon Whitwell. Whitwell was accompanied by Will N. Parsons, who explained that they both owned houses which they rented on Marietta place, which stops at the south end of property on which the M. Q. D. parking house stands.

Because of trucks passing by frequently to the pre-cooling plant of the citrus organization, Parsons and Whitwell felt that their property should be assessed at a lower figure.

Others present yesterday were E. E. Knight, of Yorba Linda, who appeared in connection with the assessment on his nursery stock, and N. L. Elliott, of Olive.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, SR., PLAYS GOLF WITH THE MAYOR OF COMPIEGNE, FRANCE, ON HIS BIRTHDAY

MR. ROCKEFELLER'S FAMILY AND ENTourage PRESENT HIM WITH FLOWERS.

Announcement of the time of the funeral was made here by Mrs. W. G. Guthrie, 1235 French street, a sister of the state official, whose wife died suddenly while they were on a trip.

Arrangements for the burial service had been delayed due to the absence of Clark B. Day, a son of Mrs. Merriam's by a former marriage, who was in the north on a fishing and camping trip. He was just located yesterday, Mrs. Guthrie said today.

Many Santa Ana and Orange county friends of the Merriams are expected to attend the funeral services.

Plans Call For New Location Of Ford Agency Here

Agents acting for the Ford Motor company have been negotiating with Santa Ana property owners during the last few days with a view to securing a lease on land to be used as a site for a new building to house the Ford agency here operated by George Dunton, it has been learned.

Several locations have been considered but no definite agreement has been reached with any property owner, it is understood.

ARRANGE FOR MERRIAM FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Frank F. Merriam, wife of Lieutenant Governor Merriam, whose death occurred at Santa Rosa Monday, will be held at the First Presbyterian church in Long Beach at 2 p. m. next Friday, it was learned today.

Announcement of the time of the funeral was made here by Mrs. W. G. Guthrie, 1235 French street, a sister of the state official, whose wife died suddenly while they were on a trip.

BANK STATEMENT SHOWS INCREASE

The statewide service rendered by the Bank of America in aiding to build up the business, industrial and agricultural resources of California, is reflected in the semi-annual statement of the institution recently published, it was pointed out today by Charles L. Cotant, manager of the Santa Ana branch. The figures include both the Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association and the state affiliate of the same name.

The total assets are placed at $1,120,645,127.58 and the total deposits $962,423,938.96 in the statement. Changes in the various asset accounts include an increase of $10,864,812.96 in the holdings of United States Government and other bonds, bringing the total of government securities held by the bank to $241,700,140.61.

The items of cash and due from banks, plus the bond investment, which total $391,738,707.41 in the aggregate, compares very favorably with the deposits of $962,423,938.96. The decrease since January 1 in the items of loans, discounts and bankers' acceptance, which amounts to $53,173,532.56, is in line with present business conditions as the funds received from this source naturally find investment in the bond account.

A decrease in deposits, from the January 1 statement, is accounted for to a great extent by the use of funds by the state, counties and municipalities and the seasonal requirements for agricultural purposes.

ASK $1900 DAMAGES ON PROPERTY DEAL

Declaring that the size of a piece of property which they purchased in San Bernardino county was misrepresented to them, Myrtle Mae Geinsendorfer and Floyd Geinsendorfer yesterday brought suit against Nettie Coverly Cox, asking judgment for $1900.

Plaintiffs asserted they were told the property consisted of three and one-half acres and bought it with that understanding for $3500, in 1927.

But when they decided to sell it to E. E. Dickerson, in July, 1928, they discovered that it either had shrunk to 2 1-2 acres or never was any larger than that, the complaint indicated. Therefore the plaintiffs had to accept $1600 from Dickerson, they said, and asked for judgment for $1900 to make up the difference.

1931 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

IT TAKES COURAGE TO SAY "NO"

It would have been easy for Pacific States Savings to continue paying its former rate of interest on savings . . . in spite of the nationwide decline in the yields of sound investments.

It would have been easy to do this by a reduction of our large cash and bond reserves . . . by relaxing the strict conservatism of our loan standard . . . or by modifying our other self-imposed safeguards.

But to all such expedients, this institution has resolutely answered "No." We will impair none of our protective measures. For when our savers ask if their funds are safe, we are determined that our "YES" shall be backed by substantial proof.

Such proof is written large in every line of our June 30 financial Statement . . . in the eight million dollar total of cash and bonds which it shows . . . in the absence of such non-liquid items as Furniture and Fixtures . . . in the notably healthy condition of our loans . . . as well as in the special reserve, unallocated earnings and capital funds aggregating over ten million dollars.

Send for this Statement and read it critically. Discuss it with your banker and ask him to compare it, item by item, with the statements of other institutions in our field.

Such a comparison will show you why the first three days of this month saw nearly two million dollars placed on our new interest bases by 2261 savers.

In the eyes of these men and women, our unmarred 42-year record and outstanding strength more than compensated for the difference in interest.

If safety is also a prime requisite of your July savings plans, we invite your consideration of our terms.

MUNICIPAL BAND PROGRAM TOMORROW NIGHT WILL FEATURE VERDI'S MUSIC

By RUTH ANDREWS

Admirers of typical Italian opera, especially of the many colorful dramatic master-works of Verdi, most famous and representative Italian opera composer of his time, will be especially gratified at Santa Ana Municipal band's regular weekly concert program to be offered tomorrow evening at 7:30, in Birch park, under the direction of D. C. Cianfoni.

In addition to a selection from one of Verdi's earlier operas, "Attila," to be offered by an instrumental trio, as a special feature, the band will play an arrangement from one of Verdi's most universally admired works, the romantic and emotional opera "La Traviata."

Verdi was born in Roncole, Italy, in 1813. Although of humble parentage, Verdi's musical talent was so precocious that he was able to officiate as organist in the church of the town where he lived when only 10 years of age.

Winning a scholarship he was enabled to study at the famous Conservatory of Milan. When he was 29, he produced his first successful opera, "Nabucco," after which his popularity and influence increased steadily throughout his life.

After performance of Verdi's well-known "Rigoletto" several years later (1851), he was acclaimed the greatest operatic composer of his day. In 1853 his well-known "Il Trovatore" was produced in Rome and "La Traviata" in Venice. These three operas are adored the world over, and continue to rank as the most highly favored in grand opera repertoire.

Through Verdi's influence, a new era in the history of Italian opera was opened. He employed all resources of modern instrumentation in his orchestral works, and sought for true dramatic expression in the highest sense. As a result he has been called the greatest dramatist of his century. Verdi's works are all characterized by vigorous rhythms, stirring climaxes, fertility of invention and the gorgeous melody so typical of Italian music, as well as an unequalled instinct for dramatic effect and certainty of touch, alertness and vitality.

James Sewell, well-known local baritone, will add interest to the program by a group of appropriate solos. He will sing "Danny Deever" by Damrosch and the famous "Requiem" (Homer), words of which were written by the poet Robert Louis Stevenson, while on his unavailing quest for health.

"Requiem" is considered one of the most beautiful of all English poems, and truly typical of the poet, whose heart was in his native country, while he wandered over the face of the earth in search of the health that was not for him. It has been called his own "swan-song," as it was one of his latter works, both pathos and prophecy blended in its simple stanzas.

HOW COSTA MESANS OBSERVED FOURTH

COSTA MESA, July 8.—Family picnic parties were many on the Fourth among Costa Mesans, and the beach proved to be the popular setting for many of them. Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Miner with their family chose Emerald Bay, near Laguna.

The party included Ruth and Dorothy Miner of Costa Mesa, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Miner and son, and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Miner and daughter of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Day, of Los Angeles; Alvin Arundell and Lynn Culbert of Ventura.

Mrs. Cella Potter Smith and children, Lela and Lester were celebrants with a family group at a three day house party at Laguna, where fishing and swimming were the diversions. Others from out of town in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Craner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rush, Mr. and Mrs. George Potter and daughter, Mabel, all from Ontario; and Mr. and Mrs. R. Synder of San Bernardino.

A lawn party was held at the R. Vele home on the evening of July Fourth, following a beach party during the afternoon. Among those included were: Mrs. F.

TAX REDUCTION IS SOUGHT FOR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 8.—Appeal to the board of supervisors of Orange county that they "carefully and seriously consider the desirability and feasibility of reducing the tax rate from 15 to 20 per cent for at least the fiscal year" is the subject of a resolution adopted by the Realty Board Thursday noon.

The resolution points to the business depression, the high assessment valuations and assessment abuses and small and diminished returns from real estate and the unprecedented amount of delinquent taxes with land owners on the verge of bankruptcy; asserts that commodities, rentals and real estate have dropped 25 to 30 per cent and that individuals and private business have reduced their expenditures drastically; avers that individuals, including public employees, can buy more now with wages reduced 20 per cent than with full wages three years ago; lists high cost of county and municipal government as recognized by economists as one of the chief causes of the depression and its long continuation; and directs the attention of the board to there being no projects of major importance requiring large expenditures during the present fiscal year and to a much larger surplus in the county treasury than is required for safety.

The resolution itself, following the preamble, is "That the Laguna Beach Realty board respectfully requests that your honorable body sympathetically weigh the facts and conditions referred to in this resolution, and that you accordingly relieve the distressed and overburdened tax payers so far as possible by paring down budgets, reducing salaries, postponing all improvements not urgently needed now; we submit that the benefits of the public works that might result from not curtailing will be many times lost by continuing to pile financial burdens on those who already have more than they can carry."

Suggested revision of dues, after some consideration by members, was referred to the membership and financial committees jointly. To the grievance committee for discussion and report went the complaint against owners and renters whose actions are deemed unethical. That owners had seized upon clients found by realtors and had rented direct without paying commission was reported. A. B. Marshall said that determined action on the part of the board was essential to progress and Clyde Mackey pointed to achievements made in the past by taking a firm stand.

HAWAIIANS INCREASE
HONOLULU, T. H.—The Hawaiian race is on the increase, according to a tabulation of the census bureau. In 1920 there were 41,750 Hawaiians and part-Hawaiians, of which 23,723 were pure stock, on the islands. The figures of the 1930 census show there are now 50,860 of native blood. This is a gain of 9,110, or 22 per cent.

STORE ROBBERY IS DESCRIBED BY CHAUFFEUR

William Dutton, negro chauffeur, occupied the limelight for a time today in the trial of Ralph Keeney, charged with holding up the Safeway store at La Habra on April 27 and rifling the safe.

Dutton said he had come down to the store early to get vegetable trimmings for his employer's chickens. He didn't get into the store. But he peered in the front window and what he saw made him shudder. There were Keeney and his accomplices with big sawed off shot guns and they were going about their business in a way that made Dutton just as well satisfied to be outside.

When they came out they told him to remain motionless for five minutes, Dutton said, and he watched them drive away in a small coupe. He didn't move until Fred Salvage, store manager, came out, and Dutton said the latter had big "whelps" on his wrists where he had been tied with rope.

Dutton told Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris that he recognized Keeney by his eyes and ears, which he said were not like those of other people. In response to a query by Defense Attorney S. M. Davis, Dutton said Keeney's ears didn't stick out from his head.

Keeney and his accomplice are said to have escaped with $600.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR BROWN MEETING

The final meeting of the joint committees appointed from various Santa Ana churches to make arrangements for the appearance in Santa Ana of John Brown, evangelist, was held Monday night at the First Christian church. Reports by the members of the committees revealed that plans are complete for the evangelistic meeting to be held here.

Others will meet at the tabernacle on South Broadway tomorrow night for rehearsal. Two members of a committee from Riverside who are planning to stage a similar evangelistic campaign were present. The Arkansas Travelers quartet sang a group of numbers.

Ben Fuller made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Kate Faucett, in the little Arizona city near Phoenix. He had been in failing health for several months so his death was not unexpected. M. N. Fuller of this city is 93 years of age. He is an active member of Sedgwick post, G. A. R.

Delay Action On Mess Fund Plea

A request from Jimmy Cain, Captain of Company L, California National Guard, for $200 to be applied to the company's mess fund, was referred to the finance committee of the city, at the council meeting this week.

Cain stated that ration money for the company had been cut down and that the "boys" needed the money.

JUNE PERMITS SHOW INCREASE OF $202,757

Judging from the number of building permits issued in this city during the past month and the amount of money involved, business conditions are improving in Santa Ana for contractors.

A check made today shows that an increase of $202,757 has been realized in building permits for June as compared to the same month a year ago. This increase is largely the result of issuance of the permit for the new $195,225 Santa Ana post office building. Fifty-seven permits were issued during June, 1930, while sixty were issued this year, records show.

The number of permits for the first six months of this year, however, falls below the number for the previous year. This year's count was 315 as compared to 416 for the corresponding period in 1930. The cost of the buildings for the first half of the year amounted to $603,703 showing a decided decrease over the $891,453 of last year's reports.

GLENN COLVIN WILL SPEAK AT MEETING

Orange county citizens will have the opportunity to attend a meeting of the American Foundation for the Betterment of Farmers and Workmen, which is scheduled to be held at the Garden Grove school house tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

A discussion of the financial and industrial conditions in the United States as affects distribution of American products and the income of laborers will be led by Glenn C. Colvin of San Bernardino, founder of the Farmers' and Workmen's foundation. Colvin is also secretary of the San Bernardino County Law Observance league.

The primary purpose of the league, according to Colvin, is to personally present the needs of the workman before congress. He is now circulating a petition which, it is planned, will be presented before President Hoover and congress. The income of the country and the obligation of congress pertaining to economic conditions throughout the nation from the standpoint of over-production will be another of the questions for discussion tonight, Colvin said. He is also attempting to arrange another meeting tomorrow night.

Attempted Forgery Results In Arrest

George R. Brown, 28, was brought to the county jail Monday night by Chief of Police Williams, Brea, who booked the prisoner on a charge of violation of the state poison act. The man was arrested in Brea when he attempted to pass forged prescriptions at a drug store for narcotics, according to the Brea police department.

"Body" Disappears From Buena Park

A telephone call Monday to the office of Sheriff Logan Jackson, informing officers that a man had severely beaten up his wife and left her for dead in the street near Buena Park resulted in a quick trip to the scene of the reported "crime." Officers found the man who telephoned, but the "body" had disappeared.

SMELTZER

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Grana and son, Peter Grana, of this place and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley, and daughter, Yvonne, of Anaheim, motored to Hawthorne as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Church, a Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr and family, accompanied by Mrs. Parr's father, George C. Abbott, and Mrs. Abbott, attended the county picnic. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Baxter and family of Anaheim entertained Mr. and Mrs. Parr and family as their guests for an evening this week.

The interior of the residence of the Los Patos Gun club, where Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips reside, has been redecorated throughout.

CORRECTS ERROR

The statement in yesterday's paper that Councilman E. G. Warner said Mrs. Clara Cushman has agreed to accept the position as secretary of the city planning commission for $25, instead of the $50 per month, which she had been receiving prior to April of this year, was in error. This statement should have been credited to Councilman Paul Witmer, instead of Councilman Warner.

FORTIFYING
Judge Emil Fuchs drew a lot of laughs a couple of years ago when he told the world he was going to give Boston a ball team. He was a nice fellow, according to consensus of opinion, but what he didn't know about baseball would fill the congressional library. The judge became the target of wisecracks.

He couldn't get anybody to manage the team. He offered John Dwyer the job, but Johnny had another engagement. He offered it to Maranville, but the Rabbit had all the managerial experience he cared for with the Chicago Cubs. Finally he told the world he would manage the team himself and the baseball world laughed at that one, too.

NOBODY'S SAP
Of late, however, the judge is becoming a pretty hard guy to laugh off. He hired Bill McKee to direct his gang of castoffs and rookies. Bill is one of the smartest managers in baseball. Then the judge started trading and buying. The profits at Braves' field went for new talent. The judge established a reputation as a David Harum; his trades were so successful that the other managers steered clear of him when he started to talk about a swap.

The other day he wrote a check for $5,000 payable to the Montreal ball club and brought a new third baseman to the Braves—Bill Urbanski. "What have I got with Urbanski?" said the judge the other day, "only the best defensive infield in this league, that's all."

Urbanski, besides being a star fielder, has been hitting .353 for the league-leading Montreal team. All three of the Braves' scouts, John Evers, Jack Slatery and Dick Rudolph, report favorably on Urbanski, and they have to be pretty good to please those fellows, especially Evers.

STILL LOOKING

In a few years the judge will be necessary to replace the aging Sheely at first base. It can hardly be expected that Rabbit Maranville will go on forever, though you might be able to get some life on it. Urbanski brings new life blood to the infield and furnishes the club with the luxury of capable reserves in the persons of Neun, Richbourg, Dresen and Randy Moore.

With a little more pitching power and a catcher, the Braves will be in the position of pennant contenders. The judge is looking for that talent now.

Tustin Girl Sprint Marvel To Run In East

MISS FURTSCH OFF FRIDAY TO A. A. U. CLASSIC

Evelyn Furtusch, sensational 17-year-old sprint marvel of Tustin, will have a chance this summer to match her speed against the leading women runners of the United States.

Accompanied by her mother and her coach, Vincent Humeston, director of track athletics at Tustin high school, Miss Furtusch will leave Friday for Jersey City, N. J., where she will compete in the National Women's A. A. U. championships July 24-25. They will make the trip by motor.

Wearing the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic club, which is defraying the expenses of her party, Miss Furtusch plans to run in the 50 and 100, as well as a lap on the relay team.

Miss Furtusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Furtusch of 121

TO INVADE EAST

On your marks! Set! Go! Evelyn Furtusch, sensational Tustin high school girl sprinter, is shown here training for the National Women's A. A. U. meet at Jersey City, for which she will depart Friday.

North Lyon street, is a junior at Tustin and has run in open competition only once but has impressed veteran track followers that she is destined to be a champion, perhaps as early as 1932 when the Olympic Games are held in Los Angeles.

In training less than a month, Miss Furtusch reeled off 100 yards in 11.6 seconds at the Los Angeles Coliseum the night of the pre-Olympic meet. The timing was official, and strict, for others called the flying little feminine in 11.2-10. The world's record for women at 100 yards is 10.4-5. Unofficially, the Tustin speedster has been clocked in 11 seconds flat.

Despite her inexperience, Coach Humeston and other tracksters believe Miss Furtusch has a good chance of defeating Stella Walsh and all the other famed women sprinters at Jersey City. The Tustin miss has been hard at work for the past month preparing for this invasion and will be at top form in the east unless the long motor trip proves too fatiguing.

HELEN WILLS MOODY OFF FOR EAST PLAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(INS)—Helen Wills Moody, world's champion tennis star, today was planning to leave for her first invasion of the east in two years.

Packing her trunks in final preparation for her departure from San Francisco Friday, Mrs. Moody declared:

"I hate the thoughts of the train ride, but the thrill of getting back into the fight for the national championship and the Wightman cup will more than outweigh that."

Mrs. Moody will enter her first tournament at the Essex Country club, Manchester, Mass., July 20. Her next will be the Seabright tournament in New York, July 27 to August 1.

Then comes the Wightman cup matches, August 7-8, and the national championships at Forest Hills August 17 to 27.

FRANCE REGULATES BETTING

France is establishing 12 new pari-mutuel offices in Paris in an effort to drive the racing bet bootlegger out of business. In addition to these downtown branches, a special telephone office and special postal betting booth also will be opened.

Hornsby To Play Third For Chicago

CHICAGO, July 8.—(INS)—Bob Smith, Chicago Cubs' hurler, has a broken thumb which will keep him on the bench for two weeks, it was discovered today by Dr. John Davis, club physician.

An X-ray disclosed that the thumb on his left hand just below the first joint was broken. Smith attempted to catch a line drive Monday against the St. Louis Cardinals and hurled six innings after that in spite of his injured mitt.

Manager Rogers Hornsby announced he was shifting himself to third base and putting Bill Jurges on second to give the team more speed.

Friday's Schedule
North Long Beach at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Long Beach; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Whittier at Westminster; Olive, bye.

Anaheim today swept into undisputed possession of first place in the National Night Baseball league, the one and only undefeated club in President George Peterkin's wheel.

While Santa Ana was spanking Huntington Beach last night, removing the other unbeaten member, George Pace's Valencia nosed out the fighty Fullerton Hawks, 5-3, in a game which saw the first 1931 appearance in this conference of "Chico" Sabella, famed fast-ball pitcher, who is expected to sling Anaheim to its first championship.

Errington started for Anaheim, but was a bit unsteady after Lawrence Hemus blasted the first ball he threw for a homer, and when Fullerton scored again in the sixth on hits by Sorabel and Headhugh, the show-ball specialist was yanked and Sabella substituted. Fullerton got a run off "Chico" in the seventh when he passed Hemus, wild-pitched him to third and Phil Schrott grounded out.

Anaheim got one in the first on Neil's walk, Rice's sacrifice, Kohler's single. The Pacemakers picked up two more in the fourth, when Kohler was safe on a passed ball, sacrificed, Preble singled and went clear to third on errors, and Norton flied out. Hits by Schuchardt, Preble and Neal added two more in the sixth. The score:

WESTMINSTER DEFEATS LONG BEACH, 5-3

Bunching hits in the fifth and sixth, Westminster beat Long Beach, 5-3, at Westminster.
In the fifth, Gardner walked and scored on Boyd Davis' double. Davis scored on Hankmeier's double and Hankmeier on Burns' single. In the sixth, Wilson doubled, Eusk doubled and Sauers singled for two more runs.

Long Beach got one in the third. Beebe singled and was forced by Hermann, who scored on a passed ball, and Al Davis' double. In the seventh, Sackett was safe on an error and Herman singled, both tallying on another two-bagger by Al Davis. The score:

BAER TO WED DIVORCEE, 38 DESPITE PLEAS

RENO, Nev., July 8.—(UP)—Max Adelbert (I-Can-Lick-Anybody) Baer, who lost a decision to Paolino Uscudun here July 4, went ahead with plans to marry Dorothy Dunbar Wells tonight, after sliding over heated objections by his parents and his manager.

"It's going to be a big affair," the 22-year-old California heavy-weight boxer and orator promised. "I don't care what they say, Dorothy and I are going to get married. It'll knock 'em dead."

The protests of Manager J. (Ham) Lorimer, however, appeared so strenuous that they may lead to a break between the two—all of which will be all right with Max. The fighter revealed he has been trying to buy up his contract, which has four years to run, and it was reported Jack Dempsey may take it over. Dempsey promoted the Baer-Uscudun fight.

Lorimer was reported to have told Max to "Go ahead and get married if you want to ruin your boxing chances."

Later, he informed newspapermen that Baer had an appointment with him in Oakland today to receive his share of the fight money. "I suppose it's none of my business," he said. "I wouldn't want to see him make a mistake. He's only 22 and his fiancée is 38."

At Livermore, Cal., the fighter's home town, his father, Jacob Baer, tried in a telephone conversation to convince Max that marriage should not interfere with his ring career—but without success. The wedding, however, was postponed from last night until tonight.

Mrs. Wells, a former film actress, was divorced in Reno six months ago from Jamie de Garson, now in London with a South American legation.

CARNERA 'OUT' IN N. B. A. TERRITORY

CHICAGO, July 8.—(UP)—General John V. Clinin, president of the National Boxing association, said today that a world's heavy-weight title match between Max Schmeling and the winner of the Mickey Walker-Jack Sharkey bout in New York July 22 would be welcomed in N. B. A. territory.

Clinin added, however, that a match between Schmeling and Primo Carnera would not be sanctioned in N. B. A. territory because the giant Italian is under suspension by the N. B. A.

Cress and White Continue Tennis Tourney Success

John Cress and Toby White moved nearer the championship of the Santa Ana round-robin tennis tournament with victories on the high school courts yesterday.

Cress won from Veri Moyer, 6-2, 6-1, and White, undefeated to date, defeated Ray Bartleman, 6-2, 6-3. Lewis Werthell trounced Eddie West, 7-5, 7-5, in another "A" division battle and Lester W. Archibald beat Floyd Klingenberg, 6-3, 6-4, in the day's only "B" match.

Merle Ewell, tournament director, announced new playing nights as follows: Class A—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday; Class B—Tuesday, Friday; women—Wednesday and Saturday. Women will have preference over "A" players on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

RUGGIRELLO STOPS ROBERTI IN ROUND

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(UP)—Roberto Roberti of New York lasted only 2 minutes and 40 seconds before the jolting right of Salvatore Ruggirello of Boston at the Olympic last night, Ruggirello registering a technical knockout in the first round.

The bout between the two Italian giants started out with all the earmarks of a long-drawn-out affair, until Ruggirello dazzled Roberti with a short right. Roberti took a count of nine, and got up to receive a terrific right smash to his nose, mouth and chin.

The blow left Roberti balanced in mid-air for a moment, and he dropped like an ox, taking another nine count. Again Ruggirello caught Roberto and sent him crashing down, but as he was about to rise Referee Freddie Gilmore stopped the fight.

NEW RACE TRACK PLANNED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(UP)—A $100,000 dirt speedway will be built this summer between Oakland and Hayward in preparation for automobile racing next September, a syndicate of sportsmen announced today. The speedway will have a one mile track 30 feet wide, and heavily banked turns will permit speeds exceeding 100 miles an hour, according to A. C. Pillsbury of Los Angeles, who will construct the track.

Earnshaw In 'McGinnity' To Aid Mack

NEW YORK, July 8.—(UP)—The Washington Senators are just about convinced that it will take more than seven ball teams to keep the Philadelphia Athletics from winning their third consecutive American league pennant, particularly if Connie Mack lets George Earnshaw pitch as often as he wants to.

Earnshaw, although having pitched a full contest against the Senators Sunday, offered to work again yesterday when "Lefty" Grove didn't feel quite up to snuff. So Mack let his big right-handed ace start his second game in the present series against the club which looms as the lone obstacle between the world champions and the 1931 title.

President and Mrs. Hoover were among the 12,000 fans who saw Earnshaw turn back the Senators, 7 to 3, on eight scattered hits.

HILL-GARDENS BEGIN SECOND HALF IN WIN

Starting the second half of their split season a full skip ahead of the other teams, the Hill and Garden first half champions took an easy Santa Ana City league baseball game from the 20-30 club, 17-2, in the Bowl last night.

Fernandez, 20-30 pitcher, did well for three innings but weakened in the fourth and thereafter was an easy target for the Clothiers' sluggers who scored as they pleased.

Sullivan blanked the clubmen for six innings, then gave way to Seacord who was tapped for two tallies in the seventh.

The other game of the evening's twin bill, a first half postponed playoff, was won by Hawley's Sporting Goods from the First Baptists, 14-4. Five runs in the first frame put the Sportsmen so far ahead they never had to worry.

Two more contests, both playoffs, are booked tonight: Moose vs. Spurgeon M. E. South, 7 p.m.; Presbyterians vs. Al's Auto Service, 8 p.m.

DATE CULTURE EXPLAINED TO B. & P. W. CLUB

Seldom has the romance of any phase of agricultural life of the southwest, been presented more conclusively to an audience than Monday when E. F. Shields of Coachella valley, talked of "The Romance of Date Culture" before the Business and Professional Women's club at the weekly luncheon in Ketter's gold room.

E. F. Shields is owner of the famous Shields Date Gardens near Indio, where 112 varieties of dates are produced, and he combines with his knowledge of date culture, an ability to tell the story of this exotic desert fruit in a fascinating manner.

Only the finest varieties are grown in the Coachella valley, where the extreme dryness of the atmosphere is especially fitted for the successful culture of the fruit, he said. Unseasonable rains can ruin thousands of dollars worth of dates, according to the speaker, who pointed out that this was not only because of the water reaching the fruit, but because the date absorbs the moisture from the air, causing the sugar content to settle in the tip of the fruit.

Miss Hester Covington, July program chairman, announced that the evangelist, John Brown, would be speaker at next Monday's luncheon, talking on his mountain school for boys.

School District Given Judgment

Judgment for the Santa Ana school district against William C. Heaton, condemning a lot near the Lowell school for public use was filed yesterday in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs. Judgment was issued by Superior Judge H. G. Ames, after Heaton had failed to contest the case. He was awarded $2500 for the lot, which is surrounded on three sides by property now owned by the school district.

It is said at one time that Heaton was offered as much as $4000 for the lot but that he refused to sell. The school district was represented by Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton.

The two men were arrested by sheriff's officers several days ago, following an alleged "free for all" fight near Talbert, in which Christoran Moreno was severely beaten with an iron bar. Christoran is in the county hospital, also under arrest for disturbing the peace.

Tidball Tells Of Conditions In Czecho-Slovakia

Y WORKER IS HONORED GUEST AT RECEPTION

Members of the First Presbyterian church, the Santa Ana Council of International Relations, the Y. M. C. A. and other Santa Ana friends extended a welcome last night to Charles Tidball, International Y worker, and his wife who are visiting here. Tidball, a former Santa Ana resident, now lives in Europe where he is connected with the world Y. M. C. A. staff as guest of honor at an informal reception tendered him at the First Presbyterian church.

This is Tidball's second visit to Santa Ana since joining the European division of the Y. M. C. A. following his service during the World war. For two years he lived in Paris, then moved to Geneva and for several years has been engaged in Y work in Czecho-Slovakia.

Speaking informally Tidball drew an interesting word picture of Czecho-Slovakia and its people and outlined the problems that have faced and still face this practically new nation. He pictured the people as originating from peasant stock with no nobility or upper class. These people, tracing their origin to many races, form a nation that is artistic by nature and desirous of developing the resources and power of the country.

Czecho-Slovakia, according to Tidball is a country one-third the size of California and having twice the population of this state. It is this population and the difference in origins that forms one of the nation's greatest problems.

Varied Population

The majority of the population, or approximately 8,000,000 people are of Czecho-Slovakian or Slavic origin he said. Three millions are of German origin, 1,000,000 Hungarians or Magyars, 64,000 Ruthenians, 75,000 Poles and approximately 85,000 people of Jewish descent.

Because of the many races represented in the country there is a constant conflict and Czecho-Slovakia has, within its own boundaries, all the international problems that arise between nations of the world. Another cause for more or less turmoil, he said, is the diversity of religion within the nation. Seventy-six per cent of the population is of the Roman Catholic faith, 1,000,000 people are protestants and 720,000 are registered non-confessionals or people who have withdrawn from some church or faith. The Czecho-Slovakian church, established after the World war and made up, principally of priests and members who have withdrawn from the Roman Catholic church, numbers 545,000 members.

The political situation in the nation is always jumbled as there are 23 political parties and all of them are active. This is the result of the national division of the people that form the country he said and makes it impossible for any one party to control the government.

Government System

With a system similar to that in effect in France, the nation is ruled by a coalition government which, at present brings the agrarian, socialist and social democrat parties into power.

Socialism in Czecho-Slovakia, Tidball said, is not to be confused with Bolshevism or Communism. The Socialists adhere to the Second Internationale but not the Third and are bitter foes of Communism.

Communism, he said, would be expected to gain members in times of depression but that is not the case in Central Europe. During the present crisis which has been more severe in Europe than in this country, the Communist party has actually lost seats in the Czecho-Slovakian government while the Socialists have gained.

Tidball told the story of Czecho-Slovakia's formation as an individual nation and this is a romance of the determination of a suppressed people to have an independent government.

A part of the nation was at one time known as Bohemia but for 300 years before the war had been under Austrian rule while the other half of this new nation had been ruled by Hungary for the same period. Before the war and the many changes that conflict wrought in the map of Europe, the two parts formed what was known as Austria-Hungary.

In spite of the fact that these people were under the severe rule of Austria and Hungary they maintained their national aspirations and kept them alive through so-called gymnastic societies or Sokols until the war. Forced to fight under the banner of the Central Powers the people who now form the nation of Czecho-Slovakia deserted to the Russian army, were taken prisoners and held until after the war. Repatriated, they returned to their homeland where under the PROBLEMS OF S. A. PLAN BODY TOLD TO CLUB

Paying tribute to traction, gas and electric companies as the first planners, Mrs. Clara Cushman, member of the city planning commission, spoke before the Exchange club yesterday at the regular meeting of that organization held in the Santa Ana cafe.

In her talk Mrs. Cushman listed some of the outstanding problems that face a city planning group and told of the organization of the group in Santa Ana in 1923. The members of this first board were: Col. S. H. Finley, W. B. Williams, Justus Bircher, A. M. Simon and Mrs. Cushman.

Organization of the Santa Ana commission, she said, was started to handle the subdivision situation which, in 1923, had become one of the city's outstanding problems. The new board passed upon plans for 52 subdivisions the first year of its life. Last year not one was proposed, she revealed.

When the commission was first created it was found that Santa Ana's greatest need was a city plan. A planning expert was employed and, while his program was not followed in every detail, many of his suggestions and predictions have been realized. The speaker declared that if nothing else resulted from the work of this planner, the zoning ordinance would have made his employment profitable.

Speaking of the zoning ordinance Mrs. Cushman said that invocation of this law is always a serious matter as it actually tells a citizen what to do with his property. A zoning ordinance, she said, should not be a rigid measure, but should allow for deviations as dictated by the best judgment of the commission. In matters of zoning, the commission does not order but advises and recommends action on applications, the speaker pointed out.

Two principal sources of future trouble forecast by Mrs. Cushman were Seventeenth street and Santa Ana boulevard and the desire of business to encroach upon this territory. The matter of business districts is one of the hardest problems facing members of a planning commission, she said. The problem of how much business area should be allotted in any community is a technical question and should depend upon absolute facts, as a trade area too large in comparison with population, present and future, will likely result in a stagnation of trade.

Two other big problems facing the Santa Ana planning commission, she said, are the matters pertaining to parks and public buildings.

Charles D. Swanner, club program chairman for July, was in charge of yesterday's session. In addition to the talk by Mrs. Cushman, little Marjorie Mize entertained with a charming toe dance. Paul LeBar accompanied her at the piano.

BOWL CONCERT SEASON OPENED TUESDAY NIGHT

Hollywood Bowl's tenth anniversary season of "Symphonies Under the Stars" opened last evening with all the brilliance of a great festival premier, and will continue this week with Walter Damrosch, dean of American symphony conductors, leading the great orchestra of 100 pieces.

Calmon Lubovicki, violinist, who recently in a contest was voted by the public the most popular of radio artists in the west, will be the soloist Friday night, July 10. A capacity audience is expected to greet him and to see Damrosch.

The coming week will witness the debut of Sir Hamilton Harty, conductor of the famous Halle Orchestra of Manchester, England, as the leader of the concert programs. Richard Crooks, operatic tenor, who was a sensation of last year's Bowl season, will be soloist on Tuesday night, July 14. Season tickets are on sale in Santa Ana at the Walgreen Drug company, Fourth and Sycamore streets.

The first broadcast will be from KFI next Saturday night. any longer need, kindly phone 2946 and the Goodwill truck will call." More than 60 crippled, aged and otherwise handicapped men employed in the salvage basement of the Goodwill Industries in Los Angeles are in grave danger of losing their jobs because not enough old newspapers and magazines have been sent in to keep them at work, it is learned.

Asks Public's Aid In Relief Program

Commenting on the situation at the Santa Ana Goodwill Industries, John Winterbourne, manager, states today that unemployment conditions are very distressing. "Only through the help of the people of Santa Ana will the local institution be able to meet all the calls for aid," says Winterbourne. "If you have any old newspapers, magazines, rags or anything you do not it is learned.

leadership of Masserich, now president of the Republic, they organized and are developing a new nation.

Government Invited Y

The Y. M. C. A. in Czecho-Slovakia, Tidball said, is a new agency having recently celebrated its 10th anniversary in the nation. Impressed by the service extended the soldiers during the World war, officials of the government asked the organization to extend its services to the newly formed nation. They not only invited the organization into the country but have aided it financially and through the delegation of man-power to assist in its upbuilding.

The work at present is directed by four American secretaries assisted by scores of Czecho-Slovakian workers and has developed faster in that nation than in any European country. At present there are 14 city associations, nine of which have modern buildings, and approximately 300 smaller groups affiliated with the various churches. The membership numbers 23,000.

Because of the various nationals represented in the country, the tangled political situation and the Y. M. C. A. policy of working for all nations without favor, the organization in Czecho-Slovakia upholds special principles that are not featured so strongly in other countries. The outstanding principle observed there is that of non-interference in political affairs. Because of this and other principles, it is imperative that the work be headed by Americans.

In conclusion Tidball said that Czecho-Slovakia is one of the few countries of Europe that has maintained its faith in America and friendship for the American people.

Before Tidball's talk several musical selections were offered by a trio comprising Earl Motley, at the piano and Betty Smedley and Robert Forney, violinists. Secretary Ralph Smedley of the Y. M. C. A. offered a word of welcome to the people who attended the reception on behalf of the church, the Y. M. C. A. and the Santa Ana Council of International Relations and J. A. Cranston introduced the speaker.

ORANGE COUNTY YOUTHS ATTEND C. M. T. C. CAMP

Eleven Orange county youths were in the group of more than 1100 who reported yesterday at the citizens' military training camp at Del Monte, to begin a month of army training under the direction of regular and reserve army officers. Colonel Ben Lear, Camp Commander, announced that the young men who range in age from 17 to 21 years, come from every section of California and Nevada. Three thousand applications for the C. M. T. C. at Del Monte were received.

The oath of loyalty and the presentation of National and regimental standards featured the initial ceremony. The Camp Commander told of the achievements of previous camps and charged the group with the responsibility of again making Camp Del Monte the best in the United States.

Officers of the 364th Infantry will supervise the training until July 15, when their duties will be taken over by the 30th Infantry, to continue until the close of camp.

PASSENGER, HURT IN CRASH, ASKS $25,460

At 2:30 a. m. on June 18 there was no traffic on South Los Angeles street in Anaheim, but Harold E. Johnson's car was in a collision just the same, according to a complaint for $25,460 damages filed here yesterday by Adeline Stewart, who said she was a guest in the car.

The complaint asserts Johnson went to sleep. But the collision wasn't a dream. In fact it seems to have been a rude awakening, for the complaint said the car struck a tree.

The plaintiff declares that she suffered permanent facial disfigurement, impaired eyesight and that she always will walk with a limp as a result of the crash.

Evening Bridge Party In Nearby City Is Enjoyable Event

A group of young people from this community were pleasantly entertained last evening as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bernhardt in their home in Whittier. Mrs. Bernhardt formerly made her home here and in Tustin and will be remembered as Miss Alice Prather.

Bridge was introduced as the diversion of the evening, and with its conclusion prizes for scoring high were awarded Mrs. John Lacy Taylor and Theo Quorton. Miss Evelyn Rogers and Leonard Coffman were also present.

The refreshment hour was a most delightful one, during which the delectable menu was served at tables spread with pretty covers in pastel tints.

Guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Don R. Park, John Lacy Taylor, Leonard Coffman, the Mesdames Evelyn Rogers, Lois Winslow, Juliette Taylor, Virginia Vian, Messrs. Thomas Crawford, Theo Quorton, Franklin Van Meter, William Fritcher, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt.

Friendship Quilt Is Of Interest At Club Meeting

An informal meeting of the Mother's club of the American Legion was held all day yesterday in the home of Mrs. Mary Crisman, 617 South Birch street. The hours were devoted to working on the Legion auxiliary's friendship quilt, which will be exhibited in a downtown window when completed.

At noon, a delicious covered-dish luncheon was served, and many were the tempting dishes supplied by members. Late in the afternoon refreshments of watermelon and punch were served.

Those present were Mesdames Mabel Leach, Susie Lammie, Hattie Stowe, Amy Stewart, Elma McKay, Margaret Hill, Della Anderson, Margaret Culver, Elma Kellogg and Mary Crisman.

NOTED BARITONE SINGER WINS TITLE OF "CELTIC CHALIAPIN"

Seldom has an assemblage of Santa Ana music lovers been privileged to hear a more beautiful voice than last night, when, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Gustin, they were given opportunity to hear Cameron MacLean, Scottish baritone who is a house-guest in the Gustin home, 816 North Main street.

Cameron MacLean, termed by the Chicago News as the "Celtic Chaliapin," was attracted to the Pacific coast at this particular time by the Biennial of the National Music federation, held recently in San Francisco. While here he and Mr. and Mrs. Gustin were happy to renew a friendship formed when the baritone visited in Las Vegas, New Mexico, and Mr. Gustin was active in the city's annual Music Festival which attracted artists from all over the world. On the coast with him is his accompanist, Mabelle Howe Mable, quite as accomplished an artist in her way, as Cameron MacLean is in his, and she also is a guest in the hospitable Gustin home.

An interesting feature of the Southland visit, and a sequel to the appearance of Mr. MacLean and Mrs. Mable before the breakfast club in Los Angeles last week, is the fact that they are the only request artists to appear on the program in connection with the unveiling this afternoon in Los Angeles, of the portrait bust of L. E. Behymer, veteran impresario of Southern California. The bust is to be presented to the city of Los Angeles with appropriate ceremonies in connection with a luncheon at the Biltmore. Mr. Behymer, after hearing Mr. MacLean last week, made a special request that he be the soloist upon the occasion.

It was an evidence of the artist's generosity that he should give so freely of his talent last night, to entertain the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gustin. For he and Mrs. Mable presented a remarkable program offering in a brief interval of time, an amazing variety of emotions expressed in song.

Opening Talk
The impromptu recital came as a climax to an evening of pleasant sociability, when Mr. Gustin spoke briefly, telling of his pleasure in the artist's friendship. Mr. MacLean, following the introduction, proved to be a master builder as well as an artist, for he laid a remarkable foundation for the songs to follow by an extemporaneous talk on music and the arts, and their importance in the scheme of human existence. Genius, according to his interestingly expounded views, consists in so much more than a native talent along definite lines, for it must be accompanied by a complete forgetfulness of self before it can possibly reach its fruition.

The reverence displayed by the speaker, the spirituality which his talk disclosed, and the philosophy voiced, proved to his fascinated audience, that Cameron MacLean is a worthy vehicle to bear a God-given talent to the world. After the deeply thoughtful talk he gave, his songs were like a fairy palace rising from a foundation bulled indeed "Upon a rock."

Many Moods Expressed
Rarely has so many different moods been expressed in the short space of "The devoted to song. But the numbers chosen, seemingly at random from an exhaustless repertoire, ran the gamut of human emotions. And coupled with his magnificent voice and faultless technique, is a dramatic ability second only to the quality of his voice.

The little group of music lovers had more than the songs for their enjoyment. They had the drama of each song enacted before their eyes. In "The Kingdom by the Sea" (Sutherland) they saw the joyousness of young love followed by the deathless pain when the "beautiful Annabel Lee" was taken in so untimely a manner in the deathless Poe classic.

In quite a different mood was the quaint "Cornish Floral Dance," one of the most remarkable songs

Bride from El Modena Married in Church At Laguna Beach

The Laguna Beach Community church was the scene of a quiet wedding Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Grace Moody of El Modena and Victor Wannamaker of Los Angeles were married. The Rev. R. I. Brahams, pastor of the church, officiated.

Decorations were beautifully carried out with many bouquets of bright-hued flowers. As a prelude to the ceremony, Verne Harrison, cousin of the bride, played selections on the organ, after which the Rev. Mr. Reese, pastor of El Modena church, sang "Untill" and "Prayer Perfect" as baritone solos.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Glenn Moody. She made a pretty picture in her white lace gown with a filmy tulle veil. Her dark hair was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she wore a strand of crystal beads. Her bouquet was of bride's roses, white sweet peas, and sprays of yellow blossoms.

Miss Evelyn Patmor was maid of honor and wore a yellow net frock over taffeta of the same tint. Her hair was of yellow lace, and she carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas, roses and maiden-hair fern.

John Wannamaker, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Kenyon Moody, a brother of the bride, Winifred Harrison, and Tyler Coburn were ushers. After the ceremony, a reception was held, and bride's cake was served by Miss Ethel Harrison and Lorin Harrison, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Moody, her mother, assisted as hostess, and was becomingly gowned in powder blue with blonde accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker left for a honeymoon trip of unknown destination. Mrs. Wannamaker chose a smart sports tulle of yellow silk with white accessories for her going away costume. The young people will make their home in Los Angeles.

The bride was a graduate of Orange union high school, attended Santa Ana junior college, and later was graduated from the Seaside hospital in Long Beach. For the past three and a half years she has been a member of the nursing staff at Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Guests present from this city included Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Patmor and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patmor, Miss Caroline Larson, Miss Mary Gail, Miss Gertrude Prichard, Miss Owen, Miss Ranney, Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Collins, Miss Egge, Miss Plank and Miss Fredinger.

Members of the bridegroom's family who were present were Miss P. Wannamaker and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wannamaker. Many guests from southern cities were present.

MRS. BISHOP AND EX-MAYOR WED TODAY IN LA CRESCENTA

Details of the marriage at 11 o'clock this morning in La Crescenta of Ana Young Bishop, Skyline drive, Lemon Heights, and John W. Tubbs, 2023 North Main street, will be received with interest by a host of friends of the happy couple, who have been awaiting news of the wedding with a world of good wishes for both the popular Santa Ana business man and former mayor, and his charming fiancée.

In planning the wedding service Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Tubbs followed their preference for a quiet simplicity, and asked only the members of the family to accompany them to La Crescenta. There they went directly to the home of the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, former rector of the Church of the Messiah in this city, and he read the impressive Episcopal marriage service.

Quiet Rites
Mrs. Bishop was simply attired in an informal sports costume of heavy white silk, with all dress accessories to harmonize, and wore a cluster of fragrant white gardenias. There were no attendants.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Bishop's mother, Mrs. Frank L. Casaday; Mr. Tubbs' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John McKittrick, and also his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lester Tubbs.

Immediately after the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs left for an extended automobile trip during which they will explore Yellowstone and Zion National parks, Bryce canyon and Glacier National park and eventually will reach Canada where they will visit various points of interest. They do not expect to return to Santa Ana until after the first of September, when they will be home to their friends in the beautiful home on Skyline drive.

Civic Activities
Mr. Tubbs was connected with the Buick agency for a number of years and always has been one of the leading business men of the city. He served as mayor over a period of years, taking active part in all civic affairs. He is an ardent sportsman and fisherman, and his bride will share his outdoor interests. Mrs. Tubbs is especially fond of travel and only a year ago completed an extended journey around the world, touching at various countries in the Orient and in Europe. She was formerly active in the Business and Professional Women's club and served as a member of the staff of officers prior to her departure for her world tour.

Reception Given in Honor of Church Pastor

Complimenting the pastor of their church, the Rev. O. W. Reinius, who has been returned to the pastorate of the Richland Avenue Methodist church to begin his fifth year here, members of the Woman's Aid society of the church entertained last night. The affair was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Barrows, 1002 Halladay street.

Mrs. James Vela, president of the society, presided over the reception. She welcomed the Rev. Mr. Reinius on behalf of the organization, while George Barrows welcomed him on behalf of the church as a whole. Russell Bruff gave a worthwhile talk.

The first number of the short program was a song by Mrs. Grace Marchant, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Boyes. Mrs. Harry Brackett played two piano numbers. Refreshments were served to complete the affair.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Use Pectin in Preserving

The days when women stood over a hot stove stirring preserves and jam are gone forever! The modern woman uses a commercial pectin and is away ahead of the game. Her product has the delicate flavor of the fresh fruit, less sugar is used (so both purse and figure benefit thereby) and much time is saved.

If you have never used commercial pectin, do get a small bottle and experiment with it. The little recipe book gives exact amounts of fruit, sugar and pectin and tells what results to expect, but perhaps you won't care for the stage of gelling produced by the recipe, so that is where your Mrs. Christopher Columbus instincts can be given full sway. I did this with x pounds of big plump cherries:

The cherries were pitted and topped, a cup of water was added and the cherries were well cooked before sugar was added, about six cups.

The mixture was cooked at a rapid boil for 10 minutes until the scum was out of the mixture, then two-thirds of a cupful of commercial pectin was added, the kettle drawn off the flame, contents stirred gently for five minutes before bottling in sterile jars.

The gentle stirring mixes the pectin through the juice and fruit so that each bit of fruit floats in jelly and stays put. Hot paraffin was poured over the hot fruit, and after cooling another layer of paraffin was used to thoroughly seal the top.

To intensify the cherry flavor a teaspoonful of almond extract was added just before the fruit was poured into the jars. These amounts made four pints of fine jellied jam.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Vanilla Ice Cream

(For Mechanical Refrigerators)

4 eggs

11-3 cups sugar

2 cups milk

1 pint whipping cream

Pinch of salt

2 teaspoons vanilla

The original recipe calls for a quart of whipping cream, but when you come to think in terms of calories as I do, you'll talk at us.

Outdoor Party Comes As Celebration of Golden Wedding

A delightful outdoor party on the grounds of the J. A. Williams home on West Chapman avenue was given recently in celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Aubuchon, 514 East Third street, this city. The party came as a surprise to the honored guests, and was planned by Miss Ethel Archer, who formed a friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Aubuchon when they lived in Kansas.

A tempting dinner was served at tables arranged on the lawn and decorated with bowls of marigolds and nasturtiums. Holding a special place of honor was the pretty wedding cake, iced in gold and bearing the figures, 1881-1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubuchon received many lovely gifts and cards, including $25 in gold and a gold register in which the names of all the guests were written in gold letters. Guests present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Aubuchon, the honored guests, were Mrs. Emma Bishop, Miss Giffin, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and daughter, Judith Ellen, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Gillins and son, Jack, Mrs. Mary Upton and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Flannigan and daughter, Geraldine, San Diego.

Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Mason, Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Huddleston, Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McCrary, Los Angeles; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harpster, Mrs. R. M. Fay, Miss Ethel Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Day and daughter, Margaret, Mr. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day and daughter, Margaret, and Will Fay, of Anaheim; Mrs. S. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams and sons, Omar, Hubert and Howard, of Garden Grove.

Home-made French mustard! Does that bring up pictures of the big jar your mother kept in the sideboard, and memories of its just-cousin, tangy goosey in a bread n' butter "sandwich"? If it does, just send me your stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you a copy free of charge.

Thursday's recipe will be on making Green Tomato Soy, a sort of sweet pickle.

RARE COMEDY FILM HERE

Spencer Tracy and Sydney Fox are featured in the latest Fox comedy, "Six Cylinder Love," which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today. El Brendel and Everett Horton also have important roles.

"SIX CYLINDER LOVE" STARTS AT WEST COAST

"Six Cylinder Love," with an all-star cast that few pictures can boast, comes to the Fox West Coast theater today for a limited run.

El Brendel, Edward Everett Horton, Spencer Tracy, Una Merkel, Sidney Fox, Bert Roach and William Collier sr. are some of the noted names in the cast.

The picture is strictly comedy throughout, packed with a thousand laughs, the laughs coming because of the misery a young newlywed couple find themselves in when they purchase a car on the payment plan which is too much for them to pay out.

The salesman who sells the expensive car to the couple comes to the rescue and shows them how they can get rid of their troubles and also shows them how they can lose their "sponging" friends.

The dialogue is clever throughout, the plot is real and the acting—with such a cast—is superb.

'DEFENDERS OF LAW' AT WALKER STATE

Lovely Catherine Dale Owen has the feminine lead in the new police and gangster melodrama, "Defenders of the Law," opening at Walker's State theater today. Miss Owen, reared to grace the social world, found the stage and screen held an irresistible lure for her, just as her glorious beauty will lure you to the theater where she is playing, for she is acclaimed one of the loveliest stars of the theatrical world. If you have seen her in "Born Reckless," "The Rogue Song" and "Such Men Are Dangerous" you will not pass up the opportunity to witness her latest screen triumph.

"Defenders of the Law," directed by Joseph Levering, is a Standard Photoplay, made for Continental release. John Holland, Robert Gleckler, Edmund Breese and Paul Panzer have the principal male roles.

900-FOOT PIPE LINE TO SERVE ONE CONSUMER

ORANGE, July 8.—A pipe line more than 900 feet in length will be laid across the Santa Ana river bridge to supply J. C. McDonald with water. At the present time McDonald is worrying along with small amounts of this necessary fluid following the collapse of his water tank the latter part of the week at his home on the south side of West Chapman avenue. The tank held 15 gallons of water and the wooden supports had been eaten away by termites. It was discovered after the tank fell.

McDonald became a resident of the city following the last annexation proceedings conducted by the city. W. J. Richardson, city water superintendent, stated that provisions had been made by the state for pipe lines along the north side of the bridge and that laying the pipe to the McDonald place on the south of the bridge, was a problem which would have to be worked out by the water department.

It was estimated that it is about 60 feet from the end of the city waterline to the bridge, 550 feet across the bridge and 300 feet on to the McDonald place. Richardson recommended that a two-inch pipe be laid in order to provide a supply of water, which he said, would be sufficient for 10 or 12 families and would supply a future as well as a present need.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The native kept on shooting fast. It seemed his arrows wouldn't last. So Scouty said, "Gee, wait a bit while I get those you've shot. All right I suppose that'll fall flat. I'd like to try my luck at that. You'd better rest. You've shot so much, you're looking tired and hot."

"Oh, don't you fret about me, lad. A lot of training I have had, but I will let you all shoot once and see how good you are. Each Tinymite can take a turn. There's much about this sport to learn. You have to pull the bow just right to send the arrow far."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sound hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.
GLOW to HEAT—Here is a par five hole that may have you stumped for a while. However, make the glow a bit brighter and you'll soon warm up to it.

PLAN MEETING ON WATER RATE IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, July 3.—With considerable public interest being taken in a meeting for the discussion of water rates, Placentia city councilmen took action at their regular meeting Monday night to secure the presence of an engineer from the railroad commission for Monday or Tuesday of next week. Low pressure and the presence of oil and sand in the water are other complaints entered by the water users, as well as high rates.

Upon the recommendation of the uniform building code by the California League of Municipalities, the city clerk was ordered to secure a copy of the code for study by the council, it having been decided that some sort of city building code was necessary.

Discussion of a two-hour parking ordinance in the business district brought out the fact that such an ordinance had been passed and signs posted, but that the law had never been enforced. It was also suggested that a 15-minute parking zone be established on each side of Santa Fe street.

Further discussion of traffic conditions at the intersection of Bradford and Santa Fe streets was held, with Councilman Curtis and Frank Rosow against the establishment of a stop sign on Santa Fe, which had been ordered by the council at its last meeting. Curtis favored slow signs on both streets, and it was voted to rescind the former motion and establish temporary slow signs on Santa Fe, and against north and south traffic on Bradford avenue.

A request from Mr. Miller for the opening of Melrose through the Fuller sub-division was considered, but as Miller would be the only one to use the street, it was decided that the city could not be expected to do the necessary work on the road.

The bishop and Mrs. Stevens will attend the St. Clement's church fete at the Social club on Saturday and will remain overnight for the services.

Dr. Robert W. Horgan, vicar, is preparing for a large delegation to greet the bishop on his annual visitation.

LEG IS INJURED

COSTA MESA, July 3.—Mrs. Jack Argent, living in the Sherry house on Fairview avenue, suffered a severe cut on the right leg, Monday, when she accidentally stepped against a recently sharpened scythe.

MEN WHO BUILT THE WEST WORE LEVI'S

STRANGE, isn't it?

Strange, isn't it, that although LEVI'S have been made for almost 60 years—no other maker of waist overalls has ever been able to successfully copy their cut. The cut of LEVI'S is a secret—but the fact that they are the most comfortable waist overalls on the market is no secret. And they're the longest-wearing overalls, for LEVI'S are made from the heaviest denim loomed. They're copper riveted at all points of strain—and so well stitched that you get a new pair free if they rip. That's why ranchers, cattlemen, miners and lumbermen insist on LEVI'S—the biggest-selling and most reliable brand of waist overalls.

Giant Jewfish Caught Off Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—Said to be the biggest Jewfish (black sea bass) brought in here this year, an 185-pound specimen, was hooked yesterday by Robinson C. Locke, who was fishing in his little power boat, the Betty Ann, southeast of Corona del Mar.

Locke was accompanied in his angling trip by Chester W. Brown, of this city, retired vice president of the Union Oil company, and Fred Ripley. He caught the big bass using ordinary heavy tackle and it took 32 minutes to get it safely into the little craft.

Locke has caught tuna and swordfish off-shore here. Swordfish may be expected from now on, according to a bulletin just issued by J. B. McNally, operator of the Thistle fishing boats. The first two marlin swordfish of season were seen last week by local residents, but they did not have proper bait or tackle at the time.

CHANGE DATE FOR HIGHWAY CELEBRATION

SUNSET BEACH, July 3.—J. A. Armitage, chairman of the committee in charge of the program for the opening celebration of the Hathaway highway, announced yesterday that the date for the celebration had been postponed because of the inability to complete the highway by the date scheduled, July 13.

July 13 was also the date of the opening celebration at Huntington Beach of the new Memorial hall and the Tournament of Lights program at Newport Beach.

The new date for the opening of the Hathaway and the elaborate celebration planned will be set later, as soon as it is decided what date the highway will be completed.

The Hathaway highway enters Orange county between Anaheim and Anaheim road. It gives a route to the Orange county coast through the San Fernando valley and tributary area, around Los Angeles and Long Beach without entering either city in the congested business districts. It comes through the Supulveda tunnel and will bring the Orange county coast line in closer touch with a new inland area that heretofore had difficulty in making the Orange county coast, where swimming is the finest on the California coast.

GOING SETS DATE TO OPEN WIDENING BIDS

FULLERTON, July 3.—Bids for the contract for the North Spadra widening project from Chapman avenue to the Pacific Electric arch will be opened at the meeting of the city council on August 4. It was decided last night at the meeting of the board when the city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the work.

Actual work is expected to be started on the project within the near future so that all paving may be completed before the winter rains. C. M. Thorpe, city engineer, declared. The action by the board last night came as a climax to months of preparation for the project which has required preparation of estimates and plans by the engineering department and the securing of the necessary rights of way before legal matters could be completed.

The plans call for the widening of the present 36 foot highway to 56 feet by eliminating the present parking and moving the sidewalks back three and one-half feet onto the abutting property. The cost of the project will be shared, one-fourth by the county, one-fourth by the adjacent property owners and one-half by the city of Fullerton as a whole, from the general fund.

No Protests

Although last night was the time for the filing of protests against the work, no opposition was given the project. Property owners agreeing to have the street widened if assured of compensation as far north as the city limits. Definite steps toward carrying out the northern unit north of the archway were taken last night when City Engineer C. M. Thorpe was authorized as the agent of the city to proceed with plans and specifications prior to adoption of a resolution of intention by the council to carry out the northern unit on the basis of an 80-foot right of way. It was explained by councilmen that while the rights of way on the south unit of the archway had been granted voluntarily by the property owners, condemnation proceedings would probably be used in the northern unit due to legal complications preventing voluntary granting of the rights of way.

The city engineer was authorized to prepare specifications on the grounds that the work on the northern unit be carried out with funds raised by an assessment of the city as a whole after deducting the amount to be paid by the state and county and the share to be paid by the abutting property plus the cost of acquisition of the rights of way. It was pointed out that unless the northern unit of the project is carried out as well as the south unit, the bottleneck condition existing on the highway entering Fullerton would not be greatly relieved.

A motion instructing the city attorney to secure assurance from the county supervisors that funds from that body would be forthcoming for the project was passed at the meeting. It was explained that although supervisors had signified willingness to assist in the project, the city council would not be justified in proceeding until definite action assuring the funds was given. All of the councilmen expressed the desire to proceed as rapidly as possible with the entire project.

SCOTCH PIPERS WILL PLAY IN TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—The skirl of the bagpipes, that stirred the hearts of the Highlanders of Scotland and cheered them on in many a historic battle, will be heard in the thirteenth annual Tournament of Lights on Newport Bay Saturday evening of next week. This is said to be the first time this Scottish music will have been heard in an illuminated water pageant.

The Caledonian Society of Southern California for the first time will enter an illuminated float in "the light." In addition to Scottish pipers, three Scottish lassies will dance the dances that have made Auld Scotia famous. These three are Ora Lee Ritchie, Jessie Smellie and Bessie Hamilton.

The float will be in charge of Donald Maclean, president of the Caledonian Society, and Robert Henderson of Los Angeles, with Andrew Wilson, Balboa Scot, as aide.

The Scottish float will be one of several to give this year's Newport Bay water fete an international aspect. The Mexican Society of Orange County is planning to enter a float which will be typically Mexican, and it is also probable that a Japanese float will be entered. The Newport Harbor Yacht Club's float will be in the shape of a Spanish galleon.

There will be more pretentious floats in this year's parade than ever before, according to E. I. Moore, chairman of the general committee, and Harry Welch, manager. Long Beach, one of the cities to enter last year, will be represented again. Anaheim will be represented by a dragon float depicting the Valencia Orange Show and County Fair, held there annually, while Pasadena will have a Tournament of Roses entry. The new Newport Harbor High School and Santa Ana High School are two of the educational institutions entered.

FORMER OILWORKER OF BREA EXPIRES

BREA, July 3.—Called to Berger, Texas, on the evening of June 23 because of the serious illness of his brother, Jerry Earl McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Guy McIntyre and son, Julius, were met in Albuquerque on the morning of June 25 with the news of his death which had occurred on June 24. The body was brought to Albuquerque for interment and the McIntyre family did not continue to Texas.

Death came as the direct result of pneumonia following an operation made necessary when McIntyre injured a leg in an accident some ten days prior to his passing. He is survived also by his widow and a 7-year-old daughter. He had just passed his thirty-eighth birthday anniversary.

Jerry McIntyre will be remembered by several in Brea and in adjacent oil fields having been employed with the Brea Canon Oil Company in 1923, at the time of the erection of that company's gasoline plant. Again, about two years ago, he was employed with that company, leaving here for the Texas fields.

The trip was made doubly sad for the McIntyre family because of the death, two days prior to their arrival in Albuquerque of Mr. McIntyre's cousin, Miss Genevieve Campbell, 31, who died in Oklahoma City and whose remains had been shipped to New Mexico for burial. The funeral of Miss Campbell preceded that of Jerry McIntyre but a few hours.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre arrived home on Saturday, having remained in New Mexico for a visit with many relatives and friends, this section having been the former home of both.

She has been secured to present a course in music appreciation.

Mrs. Greenwood will come to Laguna Beach directly from the Riverside Library school where she will present a similar course to large classes. The programs will be fully illustrated with music of all types—orchestral, folk and art songs, national and of special interest to Lagunans a program correlating music with art and poetry. The course is open to artists, musicians, teachers, club women, housewives and parents.

The lectures given by Mrs. Greenwood have been popular in universities, colleges, libraries and clubs all over the United States. The summer school for adults will open August 3 and continue to August 22.

FULLERTON TO ENFORCE RULE ON SANITATION

FULLERTON, July 3.—An ordinance regulating the disposal of wet garbage by all industrial and domestic establishments in the city of Fullerton was passed unanimously at the first reading by the Fullerton city council last night.

More rigid control over the distribution of hand bills and advertising circulars other than newspapers to paid subscribers, was also included in another ordinance passed at the first reading.

It was explained that outside advertising bills and circulars promiscuously in the city although paying no license either as a merchant or as an advertiser. It was explained that all establishments already paying a license tax in the city have the right of advertising with hand bills but that more rigid supervision is needed so that the streets and lawns through the city are not cluttered with rubbish. The ordinance had previously been referred to a committee of the chamber of commerce which reported favorably on the matter, asking that the ordinance be adopted.

Mrs. J. G. Kimber, one of the owners of the 4.11 acres of property on West Commonwealth avenue previously offered to the city as a site for the park and playgrounds at $32,500, last night presented a communication offering the same site for $10,000, declaring that the desire to see the parks and playgrounds of the city extended had prompted the new offer.

FULLERTON GIRL TO WED IN EAST

FULLERTON, July 3.—Miss Olive Tozier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Tozier of 84 North Spadra road, left last week for Bangor, Maine, where she will visit relatives. Miss Tozier will be married this summer to Kenneth Sleeper of Bangor.

The romance between them began when they started in grade school together. When Miss Tozier returned to her former home from California on a visit last year, the friendship was renewed with Mr. Sleeper, and recently her engagement was announced.

After attending the University of California at Los Angeles, Miss Tozier worked in the offices of Alexander Anderson for a year, leaving then to complete her college work at Fullerton district junior college from which she was graduated this year.

The employees of Alexander Anderson honored her at a farewell courtesy recently as did Miss Marie Alcorn, a group of friends.

Morrill Puts End To Oilers' Winning Spurt

fifth, with two on and two out, he made the same kind of a catch in the same spot off Morning. Odie Manes, Huntington Beach's center fielder, made the other stand-out play in the seventh when he went far back to rob Darwin Scott of a sure home run on the hardest hit ball of the game. Scott's drive was so far that "Roy" Morrill tried to score all the way from second after the catch but was thrown out on Elliott's perfect relay to the plate.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 8.—(UP)—Word from Berlin that withdrawal of foreign currency from Reichsbank gold reserves was shrinking brought a rally in the stock market today.

The rally followed a drastic decline had brought the list to new low ground in the present movement with losses ranging to 7 points. The late recovery brought prices well above the low, but the close was lower than the previous session.

Leading issues rose from 1 to more than 2 points above their lows. All sections of the list participated just as the whole market had declined in the earlier trading.

The opening was mixed in a narrow range and a fair sized reaction followed. As the session progressed, however, shorts placed new lines and declines were general. For a time selling took on such volume that yesterday's pace was equalled.

THE STATE OF GERMANY

It has become quite evident that the state of Germany was becoming more serious, and that something was necessary to be done if it was to be saved from financial bankruptcy and revolution. Every report that comes to us from Germany from those who know has been most serious. And President Hoover acted none too soon to save the present government there, and possibly the peace of all Europe.

Germany today is the storm center of Europe. If it should go either Communist or Fascist, the results would be extremely serious for the rest of the world. In either case the rest of the world would be drawn in, for no nation of over 60,000,000 can collapse without drawing many other nations down with it. We are confident that the common sense of Britain and America will save the situation. The real statesmen of the world sense the real situation, and realize that only a drastic reversal of policy toward Germany at the present time can save the situation.

It is now eleven years since the Versailles treaty was signed; and the whole intervening period has been one re-adjustment after another. None of the plans have worked. First came the hard exactions of the treaty itself, which prostrated Germany, and led to the French occupation of the Ruhr—a move quite as disastrous for France as for Germany. Then followed the Dawes plan, only to prove that it was unworkable. Then came the Young plan, which is going the way of all that went before. What will happen when the moratorium of a year, which is proposed, is over will be another challenge to the statesmanship of Europe. We are strongly of the opinion that the troublesome question will never be solved until reparations and inter-allied debts are forgotten, and Europe begins anew.

WHAT MEN WILL DARE

When Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic he was unknown. Today he is one of the best known characters in the world. Post and Gatty today are the talk of the whole world, and have become famous in a bit more than a week. Byron spoke of waking up one morning, to find himself famous.

But behind all this sudden rise to fame there are stories of sacrifice of which the world knows little. It is known only by the comparatively few today that Lindbergh not only risked his life in his adventure, but he staked every dollar he had saved, said to be about $5000, in the try which made him famous. Years ago Post, the latest of the heroes, lost an eye. He recovered damages of $2000. With this money he bought his first airplane. He was determined to overcome his handicap. Two eyes are none too much in flying. Yet he was ready to stake all to make a success of his career.

It is just as well to remember that success comes only after hard work and taking great risks. The man to whom things come easy rarely makes any kind of a record.

"The heights by great men gained and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they, while their companions slept,
Were toiling upward through the night."

Each of these successive heroes—Lindbergh, Byrd, Peary, MacMillan, Post, Gatty and all the rest—are an inspiration to youth largely because they worked hard and patiently, and won out only through daring and sacrifice. Yet we are told again and again that only the lure of gain drives men. There are motives much higher and nobler than move men.

POWER AND DISCOURTESY

A Chicago judge committed a Mexican consul to jail for four hours. The charge was contempt because the consul got into an argument with the judge.

It is rather remarkable how drastic the Chicago court judges can be with people who have no votes, and presumably little or no influence. It appears from the statement of the judge himself, that he took the occasion of the Mexican consul being present, at a hearing of some Mexicans, to read a lecture to the consul in commenting upon the case before him.

But when the consul desired to be heard in response to what the judge had said, the judge as he declared, said, "I am going to throw you in the can." Imagine what would happen if an American consul at Vera Cruz should be "thrown into the can" for four hours by a Mexican judge, if the Mexican judge had practically insulted the American consul!

We ought not to act as a very powerful nation against weaker nations in a manner that we would not permit them to act against us. We can afford to and have the great privilege of being decent. If a Mexican consul or the official of any other nation acts discourteously to our officials, there is a proper way to punish or have him recalled.

ALLOWANCES IN THE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE

The Secretary of State has just issued the regulations covering allowances for the diplomatic corps in foreign countries. The expenses are carefully regulated. For example, receptions on national holidays can be paid for out of the allowances; dinners and luncheons given to distinguished visitors, or to naval personnel when visiting foreign ports; tips and gratuities given in accordance with the custom of the country; purchases of flowers, wreaths, etc., on the birth or death of important personages. Some items are not allowed, such as the use of automobiles, the payment of club and association dues, printing or engraving expenses, and the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

We happen to know that similar regulations are made for all the various departments of the government. Uncle Sam keeps very close tab on all his servants, and he knows pretty definitely what his money is being spent for. Whatever waste there is in government money is not the result of padding expense accounts. There is waste, and in some quarters the waste perhaps is great. But he who is familiar with the government service knows that the people's money is carefully watched.

With the growth of the civil service, and the difficulty of local influences to reach the central government, there is little of that brazen expenditure of the public money which was characteristic of two or three generations ago. We have had a Fall and a Daugherty in recent years, but fortunately for the country such cases have been quite rare in the last 30 years. That there was a good deal of waste during the war period cannot be denied, but there was no such graft during the last war as there was, for example, during the Spanish American War. And one has only to read some of the recent histories of the American Revolution to learn that the sufferings of the troops at Valley Forge were entirely due to graft and mismanagement. We are improving in the management of public affairs.

ESSENTIALS ONLY

The Santa Ana city trustees are now working upon the budget for city expenditures for the coming year, and thus determining the amount of taxes to be raised for the carrying on of our municipal government.

There is bound to be a reduction in the total of city taxes this year, because of the reduced assessment valuations, which are approximately 10 per cent less than last year on lands and improvements, and also the fact that the limit of taxation for general purposes is set at $1.25 by state law and cannot be raised.

There is a strong demand for all possible retrenchment and if, in addition to this reduced assessment, the city council can possibly reduce the tax rate as well, it will undoubtedly prove a relief to the tax-weary public.

In general, we know that the people of this city are demanding an economic regime, and desire that in preparing the budget, the city trustees eliminate everything but the absolutely essential items necessary to the successful carrying on of the city's business and its service to the public.

If the tax rate can be reduced and yet not cripple the city, it would certainly please the public.

The Negative Man

Burbank Daily Review

The negative man is a failure. He may pull back, but those who pull forward have to carry his weight.

He is a burden that is not worth the energy that would take him a mile.

He is a consumer, but not a producer. He uses the light, but creates none. He slakes his thirst, but refuses to go to the well for water.

The inactive man may take no part in the persecution, but he holds the coats of those who stone Stephen.

He would offer no help in cultivating the soil, but would consume his share of the fruits of the toil of others. He would not aid in repelling the enemy from his native land, but would enjoy the tranquility of peace and the blessings of liberty earned by his compatriots.

The life of service is the happy life. Inactivity superinduces indifference, and indifference means sooner or later criminal negligence, sloth and "filthy rags." The principle of righteous activity is included in the economy of life; it is in the created universe, in all nature.

The fact that man is given the ability and intelligence to work, that he knows what is constructive and what is destructive carries with it the implied command, "Work while it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work."

He who rests in idleness will not only be useless to those about him, but will develop a mental attitude that is certain to affect for ill, not only himself, but those about him.

Windjammer Debate

Oakland Tribune

Decision of the navy department not to sail the U. S. S. Constitution under her own canvas on her forthcoming exhibition tour of American ports has aroused a storm of protest from old salts of the days of windjammers. Their pride was hurt by reports that the navy's policy in favor of towing "Old Ironsides" was based on inability to muster a crew competent to handle her.

Now it turns out that these reports were erroneous and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Jahnke, upon whose head rests the criticism from the veterans of full rigged sailing ships, has explained that the necessity for maintaining something like an orderly schedule on the cruise is the reason for not trusting to the caprices of the winds.

"Of course there are today American seamen who can handle the fine old frigate under sail," he said. "In the navy itself, even though we no longer train under canvas, we have officers of the grades of commander, captain and rear-admiral, who as midshipmen sailed our square-rigged training ships."

An enlisted crew from the navy's own personnel could take "Old Ironsides" "wherever ships can be sailed," he insisted. This is the pride in an old tradition maintained, even though it will not be demonstrated. The Constitution will be towed, but to preserve the atmosphere of her times while she is on exhibition in ports, her crew will don the sea-going garb of 1812.

We Propose to Fight It Out Along This Line If It Takes All Summer!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

DON'T TRUST 'EM, HENRY!

As o'er the daily news I pored
(Don't think I'm fibbing, for I ain't!)
I gasped to read that Henry Ford
Is using cantaloupes for paint!
Some chemical which they secrete
The motor maker means to use,
Which soon will decorate the street
With various gay and lasting hues.

I long have studied cantaloupes;
When sitting at my morning meal
They frequently have raised my hopes
By their enticing taste appeal.
But when I've cut them with my knife,
As they lay softly smiling there,
I've learned that cantaloupes, like life,
Are a delusion and a snare.

Some seem like nectar on the lips;
When their periphery is rent,
You sup them with delicious sips
And murmur in serene content.
While others, though they're fair to see
And covered with a filmy fuzz,
When they are sampled, seem to be,
To taste a lot like putty does.

And so I think that Mr. Ford
Should move with caution and restraint
Although these melons may accord
Some useful property to paint.
He'll never know when cars come out
For all the buying world to see
And through the highways run about
What color they are going to be.

A Job for our Circulating Medium

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

As we cross Montana on our way to the Pacific Coast, we are amazed to find how much parking space there is where it does nobody any good. That is equally true of money. There is so much currency and bank credit piled up where it does nobody any good, that interest rates have reached the lowest point in all our history. The trouble is to make the circulating medium circulate.

How much business can be transacted by a little money when it comes out of hiding and gets busy, has been shown by the Chamber of Commerce of Atlanta, Georgia. The chamber gave three checks of $50 each to three men, on the condition that each man should use his check to pay a creditor, and that each creditor would do likewise, until the checks had been in circulation for sixty days.

The checks proceeded to circulate. For sixty days they went from hand to hand in Atlanta on their debt-cancelling tour. Then it was found that the first check had wiped out $550 of indebtedness, the second check $700, and the third check $1160.

Thus the small sum of $150 had cheered up the creditors of Atlanta to the tune of $2400. Everybody had gained something. Nobody had lost anything. The people of Atlanta had just as much money as ever, and fewer debts.

Throughout this depression, more than five billion dollars of bank credit have been lost to the world. This part of our circulating medium has failed to circulate. Not to mention 400 millions of gold which have been added to our useless bonds. And not to mention more millions which our savings banks have received in excess of their needs. Would that the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce had the power to start all this idle gold and money on a national debt-cancelling tour.

Little Benny's
Note Book
by Lee Pape

I was pretty near late for supper today, the only reason I wasn't all a ways late being because pop was even later, and ma was talking to herself and looking at the clock and trying to keep her cook Nora from getting too much madder than she was already, and I went out on our front steps to wait and get more air at the same time, and pretty soon pop came up, yawning fast and looking at his watch like somebody that knew they was late even without looking, me saying, G, pop, I hope you've got a good excuse.

Thank you for hoping, but it seems to be that when a man no longer has the rite to be late for supper in his own home, the last shred of liberty will have disappeared from this slave driving world, pop said.

But G, pop, ma's yawning around looking at the clocks and Nora is mad as anything, I said, and pop said, Wimmim have looked at clocks since the invention of time, and clocks are born mad. If Im late Im late and I don't need any reasons. There are some famous gentlemen in a song who are here because they're here, and that's why Im late, in other words Im late because Im late, he said.

Which just then ma opened the front door, saying, So it actually is you, I thawed I heard your voice out here for the last 5 minutes but I couldn't believe my ears, the idea of holding forth out here like a public lecture when you're almost an hour later as it is and supper is in the last stages of shriveling away and Nora is like an unmanageable tornado and if I enjoy a bit of food tonight it won't be your selfish fault. Well wait, cease firing, give me a chance, pop said. How could I of got home any earlier when the government auditors were there looking over the books and I had to fiddle tooth and nail to keep them from taxing my family into the poor-house? he said.

Being a excuse, and we went in and ate supper, being hamburger stakes, tasting as if they would do better twice as good about a hour ago.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

FOLLOWERS IN BUSINESS

Yesterday I spoke of the fact that, in American business, we are suffering from a bankruptcy of followership no less than from a bankruptcy of leadership.

I need not speak here of the bankruptcy of business leadership when the nation finds itself victimized by a depression at a moment of unparalleled and unprecedented plenty.

It may seem a little far-fetched to speak of the importance of followership in business.

In business, you may say, cannot the leader push a button and compel his subordinates to follow orders?

In a single business, yes! In the larger strategies that determine the direction the total economic life of America shall take, no!

And what we need just now is great economic leadership in the general policies of American business and American industry as a whole.

I have said before in these articles that I think I could select a dozen American business men who, acting as a directorate of American business, could, if the business world would follow them, rectify and regularize our economic life with decent promptness and set the feet of the nation and again on the highway to a widely distributed and stabilized prosperity.

But if these dozen men I have in mind—and they are men whose personal business achievements are known from coast to coast—should say publicly what I have heard them say privately about the direction in which our economic policies must move if the American business and industrial order is to survive, they would run the risk of being branded by the vast majority of smaller American business men as dangerous radicals.

One of the most important facts in American life today is the wide divergence that exists between the economic outlook of the really "big" business men and the conventional economic opinions of the rank and file of smaller business men.

I am suspicious of the uncontrolled concentration of great power in the hands of big business men.

But today the utter inadequacy of many of the old economic dogmas that have heretofore animated big business is driving many of the biggest of big business men to an unprecedented flexibility of thought about the nation's economic future.

But up to date these men have not been as bold in public policy as they have been in private confessions.

No one knows how much of really great economic leadership is today being held in leash because it is convinced it could not swing the majority of American business men with it.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI
WHOOPS

"The only thing we can do is to pack up and go to the shore right away. That child will spread whooping cough all over the place. I don't want Louise to catch it."

So away went Louise and mother and the gray cat in a basket and two trunks and a box of toys to the shore. "You see Matilda has the whooping cough and whooping cough is catching. When children have it they must stay by themselves and not play with other children."

"Would it make me sick?"

"Yes. That's why we have to go right away and leave the family behind. I don't want you to catch it."

The shore was tempting in the sunlight. The sea came and went with a gentle murmur and the soft breeze, a whispered breath, touched one's cheeks with cool caresses. Louise took her pail and shovel and went forth to dig down the shore a little way she saw a little girl about her own age, filling a pail with shells. She lost no time in getting to her.

"Hello."

"Hello."

"What is your name?"

"Ethel May."

"That's a nice name. My name is Louise. Do you like it?"

"It's all right. I'm making a house."

"Can I help? I have a pail and a shovel. I can get my wagon if we need it. What's your doll's name? Can it sleep? Mine can."

"Mine can say Ma-ma and walk and sleep and—"

"What did I tell you, Ethel May? Didn't I tell you not to play with any other child down here? Didn't I say just before I let you come down here that you were not to let any little girl or boy play with you? Didn't I tell you that you had whooping cough and that you might give it to other children? Now off you go to bed. And you, little girl, go right home and tell your mother that you have been playing with a little girl who has the whooping cough."

"I didn't whoop once."

"Never mind. You're going to bed and this little girl is going home to tell her mother."

Which is why children who have whooping cough, or any other illness that they are likely to distribute to the bystanders, should wear a little band on their sleeves. Some people say that it makes the children feel bad. I think that it is better for a child to feel bad about wearing a band on his arm than to allow him to spread illness among other children.

I think, too, that if the matter was explained to him so that he knew he was protecting other children, he would wear the band rather cheerfully. I have known children who took pride in the bright band on their arms. It all depends upon how you say it.

Whooping cough is an unpleasant illness for any child to have and the less we have of it the better. An armband doesn't cost much and it does save a great deal.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

GERMAN CRISIS

On July 8, 1917, German political unrest, due to popular dissatisfaction with the conduct of the war, had reached a crisis. The Hamburger Fremdenblatt on that day said:

"We are now living through the greatest crisis in our political life which has arisen since the outbreak of the war. This crisis centers around the fundamental questions of war and peace as well as the reorganization of our internal political system."

In referring to Matthias Erzberger, member of Parliament, who created a profound sensation by declaring for peace without annexations or indemnities and who criticized the German submarine policy and the blundering diplomacy which brought American into the war, the Fremdenblatt said:

"Continuation of the submarine does not come into the question, not even so far as Erzberger is concerned. The question is of revising the war aim formula somewhat of the lines demanded by our Social Democrats."
